SERVICE

Will forever "carry on" as one of the Sacred Words of the war; like Buddy, Bunky and a host of others that were born, or acquired a new significance from the war, it will have a very special meaning to all who served, here on the "Home Sector" and "Over There." There is no measuring of honest Service, Service that comes from the heart of loyalty, needs no special stage, nor scenic effects! Nor does it go, for long, unappreciated. There will ever be jealous hearts to scoff at the fruits of our labors, mean and selfish souls, who, begrudge "Everybuddy" his well earned place upon the tablet of honor, men who want the word "Service" to be forgotten, as it applies to the World War.

SERVICE MAGAZINE, published by the 80th Division Veterans' Association at Pittsburgh, Pa., has been called "The Best Soldier Publication in America." We are not content with just that! We wish to make it the best beyond question. We desire to "carry on" with special emphasis on the word "Service" and the name "Buddy"—we want to keep liaison with "Everybuddy" who can feel unashamed of his war record. "Service" is a regular bi-monthly communique of events past, present and future. Its pages contain the best reminiscences of the days in Camp and "Over There." Its stories are priceless in value, first, because they are true pen pictures of a great Service and secondly, because they now carry the mellowness of time. "Everybuddy," mother, dad, brother and sister, whose hearts were fighting in the great battle of keeping the Faith, supplying the Confidence and Moral Courage of their boys "Over There"—watching and waiting, hoping and praying, will enjoy the SERVICE MAGAZINE.

SERVICE is owned and published by the 80th Division Veterans' Association, costs $2.00 a year, and is worth it.

Write for a sample copy—and then, when you are convinced—help to increase its usefulness and circulation.

"Everybuddy get a Buddy."

PICNIC AT WEST VIEW PARK

Pittsburgh Welcomes the 80th Division

TEN years ago the special trains pulling through Richmond and Petersburg to Camp Lee, or rather the beginning of Camp Lee, were filled with the hundreds of recruits who were to become the members of a great fighting machine destined for the battle—fields of France—the 80th Division. From the time of that first journey into the strange world of things military, many of the same recruits, but recruits no longer, were to take other journeys—a trip over the ocean, various rides by way of the “box-car pullman,” by trucks, and last, but longest to be remembered by the doughboys, many weary miles on foot.

Thousands of the buddies have made it a point once each year to take another little journey to the land of memory by attending the annual reunions. They have returned home happier for the experience. Many in the years following the war perhaps have found the duties and responsibilities of civil life too great to permit of a few days with their old comrades.

This year, however, marks an event of greater meaning than that of another reunion. It is ten years since the grand old division was organized. Surely once in ten years a little extra enthusiasm is warranted and it will be found in Pittsburgh from August 31 to September 4.

When you arrive in the city, if you come by train you will be met at the railroad station by your Buddies serving on the Welcome Committee who will have charge of transportation to convey you to the convention headquarters in the Moose Temple on Penn avenue. The main auditorium of the Temple will be used for registration purposes and the entire facilities of the building will be enjoyed by the 80th Veterans through the courtesy of the L. O. O. M. The first thing to do after arriving at the auditorium will be to register, secure your convention badge, programs, tickets, and all that usually goes with registering at one of the 80th reunions.

A registration committee will make this a short and easy part of the program after which the Housing Committee will discuss accommodations with you and endeavor to meet the ideas of everyone as to where and how they like to stop. In addition to the hotels there are a number of desirable stopping places, such as Pittsburgh Natatorium, Y. M. C. A., etc., as well as the special arrangements that can be made if necessary at the Hunt Armory.

The city will be in its holiday attire and the streets decorated more elaborately than at any of our other conventions, with banners, flags and special color arrangements. Visitors will be welcomed with bands which will play appropriate music on all of the streets of the downtown section continuously during the opening day, Wednesday, August 31.

The opening business session and welcome meeting will be held this year at 8 p. m. in the Moose Temple which will give the visitors a chance to meet their comrades, get established, and all ready for the many events that have been scheduled, in addition to enabling the late arrivals to be in time for the welcome meeting. Every effort should be made by all who attend the reunion to get to the city on Wednesday as there will be a number of events that afternoon and evening that should not be missed.

The City of Pittsburgh is more than an industrial city and it has many spots of historical interest, beautiful parks, extensive residential sections, libraries, art galleries, museum, zoological gardens, new bridges, tunnels, boulevards, colleges, amusement centers, and a thousand and one other features that will be of interest during your stay.

The Anniversary Committee has prepared what it believes to be the most complete program of its kind yet undertaken at an 80th convention, and its success is assured providing the men of the 80th MOVE FORWARD to Pittsburgh on this great occasion, which will not occur again for ten more years.

HARRIS DAY
Forbes Field, September 2
St. Louis vs. Pirates

"BATTLING JOE" HARRIS

HE FOUGHT his way across red fields of France,
Shoulder to shoulder in the charging line,
Checking and routing the enemy's mad
advance,
And finally sent them scurrying o'er
the Rhine;
And when at last peace came to a weary world,
He sheathed his bayonet and stacked his gun,
To fill a breach that brought a flag unfurled,
With baseball's highest honors to Washington.

A FEW years passed, their winning combine broke,
And scattered to the four leagues here
and there,
Then suddenly the baseball world awoke,
To find a new sensation in the air,
For "Battling Joe" has once more filled
a breach,
His clean-up gun just thunders out the hits,
That blaze across the field with a screech,
That has the Giants, Cubs, Cards at their wits.

AND EVER since this "Blasting Boy" was found
The Pirates have enjoyed a wild winning streak,
Shelling the best of pitchers off the mound,
To land them leaders at the topmost
peak;
And perhaps,—who knows?—that yet again
A flag will follow his dynamic stick,
For fate is kind to him indeed, 'tis plain,
Who knows just when and where to do his bit.

Major General Adelbert Cronkhite

COMMANDED THE 80TH DIVISION DURING THE WORLD WAR

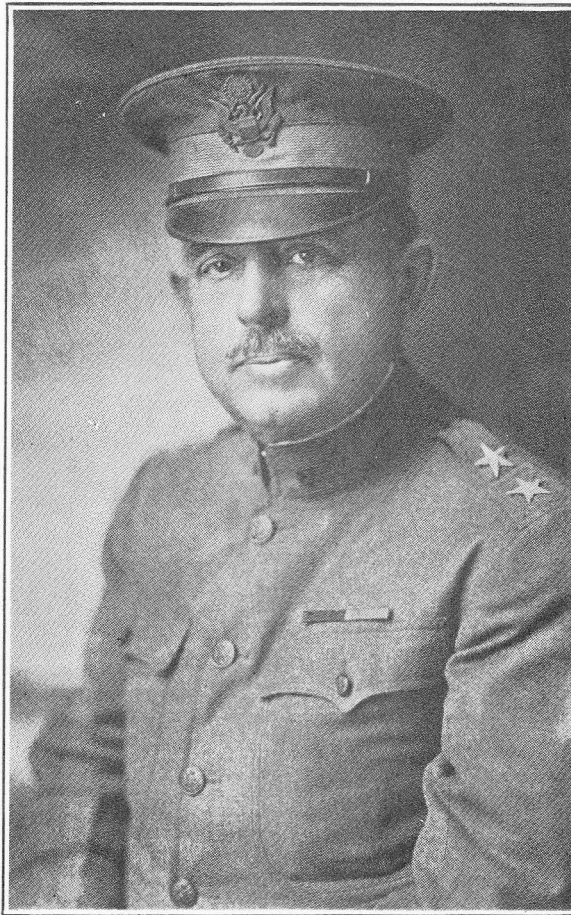

GENERAL CRONKHITE was elected president of the 80th Division Veterans' Association in France, May 1, 1919, and was again elected at Norfolk, Virginia, August 29, 1923. Too much cannot be written of the inspiring life and gallant military career of our beloved General Cronkhite. "Those who followed him loved him dearly, and gave the best that was in them because he took nothing at their expense, seeking only as he did to erect his fame upon their success and by that very characteristic manifesting one of the most indisputable evidences of his capacity for leadership." As Commander of the 80th Division and its first president, he is an example of all that is best and finest in an officer, who, by his dauntless courage, loyalty, and devotion, brought only the highest honor and glory to its standards. General Cronkhite stands before the world today as one of the most excellent examples of American manhood, commanding the personal regard and admiration of everyone. Because of his excellent leadership he has made the 80th Division famous the world over. His unquenchable spirit and devotion will never be forgotten by those who are aware of the rare nobility and worth of our beloved commander. His brilliant life and glorious military career are splendid examples after which every true loving American lad should fashion his life.

General Adelbert Cronkhite, commander of the Eightieth Division throughout its organization, training and battle service, in the World War, was born in the Mohawk Valley, at Litchfield, N. Y., January 5, 1861. He was the son of Colonel Henry McLean Cronkhite, a veteran of the Civil and World Wars, and Eleanor Laney Nellis, both of the State of New York.

General Cronkhite is of English-Dutch ancestry, whose paternal forbears settled on Long Island, N. Y., in 1642. His boyhood was spent in the Army, at the various military posts in the South and West, where his Father was stationed. On July 1, 1878, he was appointed as a Cadet at the United States Military Academy, from the Territory of Arizona, and entered that institution at the age of seventeen. Upon graduation, June 13, 1882, he was assigned to the Artillery arm of the service—the "Fighting Fourth" Artillery, in which he remained throughout the regimental organization of the Artillery.

While passing through the various grades from Lieutenant to Colonel, General Cronkhite was an Instructor at the Coast Artillery School at Fort Monroe, Virginia, and organized the School for Non-commissioned Officers at that station. He was detailed for Field Artillery service, both as Lieutenant and Battery Commander, and was Adjutant of the Field Artillery School at Fort Riley, Kansas. He commanded a Mountain Battery with the Sixth U. S. Cavalry, in the Pine Ridge (Sioux Indian) Campaign, and during the Spanish-American War was Quartermaster and Commissary of the Field Artillery Brigade in Cuba, as well as commander of a Provisional Brigade and Light Battery "B" 4th Artillery in Porto Rico.

Upon completion of his Field Artillery service, General Cronkhite was made Assistant to the Chief Quartermaster, Department of the East, and Assistant to the Depot Quartermaster, New York City—Assistant Inspector General, Department of the East—Inspector General, Department of the Gulf, and Artillery Officer, Eastern Department, under Generals Corbin, Wade, Davis, Grant and Wood.

Upon promotion to the rank of Colonel, General Cronkhite was assigned to the command of The Coast Defenses of Eastern New York, and later to the command of The Coast Defense of Panama, where, upon promotion to the rank of Brigadier General, he was made commander of the Panama Canal Department, and when war was declared in 1917, became Military Governor of the Panama Canal Zone.

Upon General Cronkhite's promotion to the rank of Major General, N. A., he was given command of the Eightieth (Blue Ridge) Division, at Camp Lee, Virginia, where this Division was organized and trained for battle service overseas—a Division which was destined to play such an important part in the Great World War—the only American Combat Division called three times into the momentous and decisive Meuse-Aisne Offensive.

After the Armistice he was assigned to the 6th Army Corps in which capacity he served several months.

When the American Expeditionary Forces were being returned to the United States, General Cronkhite, naturally being most desirous to take his old Division back home, requested that he be reassigned to its command. This request was granted, and in the spring of 1919, under special authority of the Commander-in-Chief, A. E. F., General Cronkhite relinquished command of the Sixth Army Corps, and rejoined the Division.

Before sailing for home from Brest, on May 17, 1919, the Division received the official thanks of the French Republic for the "glorious part" its valorous soldiers had played in the battles of the great World Conflict. Highest honors were paid the Division, and decorations awarded by the French Government.

Then came the triumphal Home Coming, of the victorious Blue Ridge Division, and the glorious welcome accorded by its home States—Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania.

Upon the return of the Division to the United States, General Cronkhite was assigned to the command of the Port of Embarkation, Newport News, Virginia. He was later assigned to the command of the Coast Artillery Training Center, Fort Monroe, Va., and the Coast Defense of Chesapeake Bay; and was a member of the Coast Artillery Classification Board. When General Cronkhite was promoted to the rank of Major General in the Regular Army, he was assigned to the command of the Third Corps Area, with Headquarters in Baltimore, Md. He was a member of the General Selection Board for officers of the Army; was Military Aide to Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby, representing President Wilson, on his official visit to the South American Republics. General Cronkhite was later president of the Final Classification Board, for officers of the Army, convened by order of President Harding.

General Cronkhite was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by the Government of the United States; was made a Commander of the Legion of Honor, and awarded the Croix de Guerre, with Palm, by the French Government, and was made a Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George by the British Government.

General Cronkhite has the distinction of having had three generations of his immediate family on active duty in the Regular Army of the United States during the World War in 1918.

General Lloyd M. Brett

COMMANDED THE ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTIETH BRIGADE OF INFANTRY DURING WORLD WAR

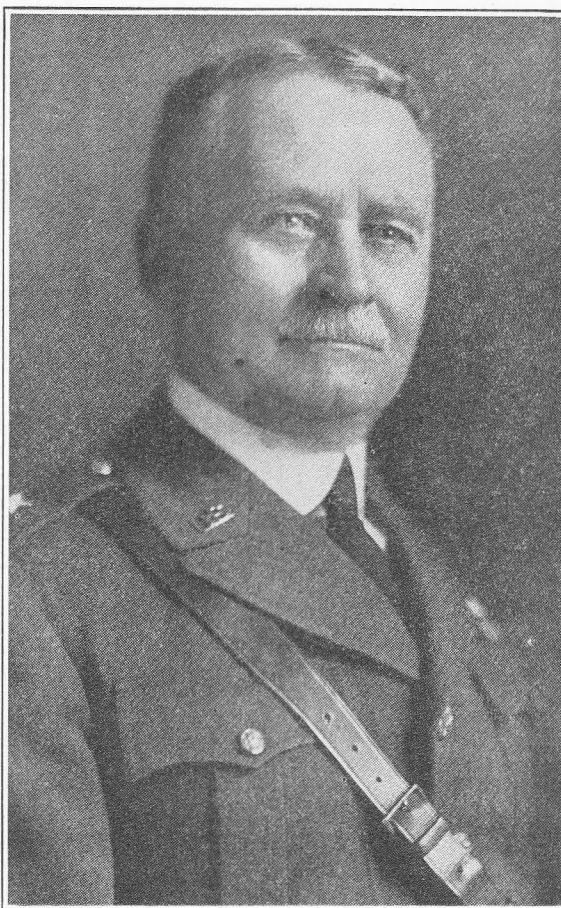

BRIGADIER GENERAL LLOYD M. BRETT, of whom you have heard much in the last ten years, was born in Maine, and graduated from the Military Academy in 1879. He retired from the United States army in February, 1920, having reached the age of 64. At the time he retired as a colonel. In February of 1927 he was restored to his rightful rank of Brigadier General. A bill was passed in the United States Senate which authorizes the President of the United States to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to the next higher grade any officer not above the grade of colonel on the retired list of the Army, or who may hereafter be retired who has served with exceptional efficiency as a commissioned officer on the active list for over forty years. Three officers only, Colonels Lloyd M. Brett, William J. Nicholson and Wm. C. Brown, United States Army, retired, came within the provisions of the proposed legislation.

Over forty years of General Brett's life were spent in the service, during which time he served in the Indian Campaigns, the Spanish-American War, and was awarded the medal of honor and distinguished service medal, besides service in France in the World War, and was cited for exceptional meritorious and distinguished services. General Brett's record which begins with the award of the Congressional Medal of Honor is a most brilliant one.

He served in the Sioux Campaign, in Montana, under General Nelson A. Miles, then Colonel, 5th Infantry, from 1897 until the surrender of Sitting Bull, and the last hostile band near Poplar River, Montana, January, 1881. He then went with his troop (A, 2nd Cavalry) 250 miles further into the uninhabited west and was part of the Garrison of Fort Maginnis, Montana, for four years, during which time he participated in the Cree Campaign, and assisted in making that remote section safe for settlers.

During the sixteen and one-half years of service on the frontier in which he participated in many Indian Campaigns and skirmishes, he received the congressional medal of honor. Of the hardships endured in those campaigns, the sufferings endured in the cold of the Northwest, and the heat of the Southwest, he never complained.

He also served under General George Crook in the Geronimo Apache Campaign, 1885-86, and was mentioned in orders for great energy and determination displayed in the pursuit of the hostiles during which they were forced to abandon their stolen horses, and take to the mountains on foot, where the pursuit was still vigorously pressed. General Nelson A. Miles in Field Orders, No. 12, Department of Arizona, said: "The hostiles were vigorously pursued through the Dragoon, Caesura, and Santa Theresa Mountains by Lieutenant

BRIGADIER GENERAL LLOYD M. BRETT

Brett, who displayed great energy and determination, making one forced march of 26 hours without halt, and going 18 hours more without water during the intense heat of the summer."

These experiences of our beloved General Brett he treasures beyond words. He saw the great West opened up from its wild state to become the home of many thousands of deserving people. He saw the great transcontinental railroads go through; saw towns and even cities spring up where before were only the sagebrush and prairie-dog villages, and to have had a part in that period of development is one of the greatest experiences in life that man could ever boast.

In the Campaign of Santiago de Cuba, he was appointed the Provost Marshall General of General Shafter's Army, and was later selected to command the one hundred picked men to represent the American Army at the surrender of the Spanish troops and the city of Santiago de Cuba.

He was cited for gallantry displayed by him in the pressure of the enemy and under fire at the battle of El Caney, July 1.

As a Field Officer of Volunteers, he participated in the Philippine Insurrection and commanded in skirmishes against Moros in Mindanao in 1900.

After nearly five years as Adjutant General and Instructor of the Militia of the District of Columbia,

General George H. Harries, Commanding, expressed himself in writing as follows: "You have had many predecessors as Adjutant General and some of them have been of the best, but no one has rendered such uncommonly useful service as you have. No one has given more freely of himself, capable at every point, whether in the office or in the field, as an officer and a gentleman in the highest sense of that combined term, loyal friend whom I shall always hold in the highest esteem, you have filled every expectation."

For six years General Brett was superintendent of the Yellowstone National Park, a duty very different in all its essential features than that of straight soldiering. Here General Brett performed his duties with a degree of efficiency that compelled the admiration of all the officers of the department. They at once recognized "his executive ability, tact, and diplomacy that he exercised in managing the park, as well as his capacity for operating Fort Yellowstone in a strictly military manner and in accordance with the best traditions of the army."

He served on the Mexican Border in 1916 in command of a Cavalry Brigade.

He was appointed Brigadier General, National Army, August 5, 1917, and was assigned to the 80th Division at Camp Lee, Virginia..

It was General Brett who organized the 160th Infantry Brigade and commanded it during the entire life of the unit. He was repeatedly recommended for promotion to the grade of Major General before the departure of the Division for overseas, and while serving with the A. E. F.

He was cited in Field Orders by the Corps Commander on November 2, 1918, during the most successful stage of the Battle of the Meuse-Argonne.

General Brett was awarded the Medal of Honor. "For most distinguished gallantry in action against hostile Sioux Indians near O'Fallon's Creek, Montana, April 1, 1880, by fearless exposure and dashing bravery, cutting off the Indians' pony herd and crippling the hostiles."

He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal. "For exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services. He commanded the 160th Infantry Brigade with particular efficiency in the markedly successful operations resulting in the occupation of the Dannevois Sector in October, 1918. In the actions near Imecourt and Buzancy in November, his brigade broke the enemy's resistance. Due to his ability and leadership these operations proved a crowning success."

He was awarded the decorations of Officer of the French Legion of Honor and Croix de Guerre with palm.

General Brett was elected president of the 80th Division Veterans' Association at Richmond, Va., September 6, 1920. He was re-elected at Pittsburgh, Pa., August 5, 1921, and again re-elected at Charleston, W. Va., September 4, 1922. He now holds the position of Honorary Life President of the Association.

APT. CARLO D. CELLA, noted New York attorney, whose term of office as President of the 80th Division Veterans' Association expires this month, has distinguished himself by his leadership and ability as one of the finest Presidents the organization has ever had, and leaves behind him a record in office that will be a model for all his successors.

Captain Cella was elected President of the 80th Division Veterans' Association at the Annual Reunion held at Petersburg, Va., in August, 1926. Brilliant in legal and business matters, self-sacrificing, and capable at every point, he has rendered the Association untold service, and lead the 80th forward toward the goal for which they are striving. He is honored, loved and esteemed by every member of our famous outfit and will always be to all a loyal friend who served his term of office unflinchingly and who has filled every expectation.

Captain Cella was born in New York City on June 10, 1887. He was educated in the public schools and later attended the DeWitt Clinton High School in New York City. After his graduation in 1904 he entered Columbia College and received the degree of A. B. in 1908. He then entered Columbia Law School and graduated with the degree of L.L.B. in 1910. On leaving law school he went to work in the office of Thomas F. Gilroy, Jr., a fine lawyer and an excellent man with whom he remained until 1914, at which time he started out to practice for himself in the City of New York.

During this same year he joined the 1st Cavalry, New York National Guard, and in June, 1916, his regiment was ordered to the Texas border. He was stationed at McAllan, Texas, a group of shacks in the cactus and mesquite, about sixty-five miles up the river from Brownsville. He remained here until March, 1917, when he was then ordered back to New York and mustered out. His unit was one of the last to quit the border and had one of the longest stays of any National Guard unit. At the time he was a private, but on his return was made a corporal.

In May of 1917 he was ordered to the First Officers' Training Camp at Fort Myer, Virginia, where, after three months of "squads east and west" and an attempt to digest countless military text books and pamphlets, he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant of Cavalry on August 15, 1917. He was ordered to Camp Lee and with all the other cavalry officers was sent to the Depot Brigade to help train recruits. On December 31, 1917, he was made a First Lieutenant of Field Artillery.

About ten days before the 80th Division sailed for France, he was transferred to Division Headquarters as Assistant Division Adjutant. This, he told us later, was one of the greatest strokes of good luck he ever realized in his life. To him it meant that he was going to France as a member of our Division, than which, he considered, there neither was nor is a better.

Division Headquarters, together with the 318th Infantry, left Camp Lee on May 20, 1918, and arrived at Hoboken on the 21st where the Division boarded the Leviathan. The ship sailed the afternoon of the 22nd, and after a pleasant voyage with an exciting ending, arrived at Brest on Decoration Day. On July 29, 1918, President Cella was made a captain, which rank he held to the end of the war. He had been everything from a buck-private to captain with the exception of a sergeant.

When the Division took part in the battle of St. Mihiel, Captain Cella was sent as the Division Liaison Officer to the II French Colonial Corps commanded by General Blondelat. He was one of the first Americans to enter the city of St. Mihiel after it was captured from the Germans by the French Colonial Corps.

On September 25, Captain Cella was sent as Division Liaison Officer to the 4th Division, then commanded by General Hines. The 4th Division P. C. was then Montzeville and was later moved to Cuisy, a town well known to everyone. In the last drive, which began on November 1, he was sent as Liaison Officer to the First Corps commanded by Major General Dyckman, and he remained with them until the Division came out of the lines for the last time on November 7. He rejoined the Division at the famous dug-outs at the Abri St. Louis in the Argonne. He sailed with the Division from Brest in May, 1919, and then went to LeMans where he took up his duties with the R. R. & Co., with which Department of the Army he remained until July, returning to America on the "Imperator," the sister ship of the Leviathan. He left Brest August 3 and reached Hoboken August 10. It was the last trip the "imperator" made under the American flag. He was discharged September 5, 1919, at the Port of Embarkation at Hoboken.

The following month he announced the opening of his law offices, and has been practicing this profession ever since.

During his absence most of his clients had to seek other lawyers in legal matters, but it was not long after the doors of Captain Cella's offices were thrown open, announcing to the world his intention of resuming the practice of law that there was a rush of clients to greet him. Realizing his ability and skill in handling all perplexing legal affairs, they could not afford to miss the first opportunity to consult him.

Captain Cella married the former Mrs. Marion Ebbert, widow of Captain Peter W. Ebbert (D.S.C.), 58th Inf. 4th Division, who had been killed in action on the Vesle in 1918. He has four children, Catherine Ebbert Cella, Elena, Carlo Jr., and Roberto Cella.

He has been active in the Association since it was organized, has served on the Executive Council for a number of years, and prior to his election as President, held the office of Vice-President.

When he took office as President, Captain Cella called upon his comrades of the 80th Division all to come into the fold of the Veterans' Association and pledged his every effort toward making it bigger, stronger, and more typical of the peerless organization which will go down in history as one of if not the greatest outstanding outfits in the World War.

Plunging into the task of reviving interest in the organization the membership of which had dropped from a wartime total of 37,000 to a few thousand, Captain Cella in the brief period of a year revived the greatest interest and by his earnest and unceasing effort has directed the 80th Division Veterans' Association onward in its course to success and prosperity. He was always ready and eager to assist at every point, to assume the responsibility of bigger things which never seemed to overtax his capacity.

The Association was very fortunate to have had this efficient officer and leader take "command" of affairs. His term of office ends all too quickly. He has attained his objective and it is with no small pang of regret that the organization this year to its retiring and incoming presidents extends the greeting of "Hail and Farewell."

First Lieutenant Frank S. Schoble, Jr.

SERVED WITH THE 318TH INF., 80TH DIVISION. BLINDED IN ACTION

FIRST LIEUT. FRANK S. SCHOBLE, JR.

LIEUTENANT FRANK SCHOBLE, JR. was elected President of the 80th Division Veterans' Association at Pittsburgh, 1924. At the close of his term of office he was made Honorary Life President of the Association. With this excellent officer as leader the 80th Division profited in every way possible. The members showed their appreciation for his exceptionally fine service as their head and advisor by electing him an Honorary Life President.

Lieut. Schoble was born in Philadelphia, on December 15, 1887. He received his higher education at the Philadelphia Central High School and at the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. He entered his business career, well equipped with a splendid education, a brilliant mind, and a great amount of physical energy and endurance. He entered the business world as a manufacturer, and established a factory in Philadelphia. The fame and good name of the Schoble Hat Company is world wide, and our young Lieutenant helped to make it so. At present he is in the insurance business in Philadelphia.

When the United States entered the World War, Lieutenant Schoble enlisted at the Officers' Training Camp at Fort Niagara on May 12, 1917, and received a commission as 2nd Lieutenant of the Cavalry, O. R. C., on August 15, 1917. He was assigned to duty with the 144th Depot Brigade at Camp Lee, Virginia, and was re-commissioned 2nd Lieutenant, F. A., N. A., on December 12, 1917. At his own request he was assigned to duty with the 318th Infantry, 80th Division, on April 28, 1918, and went overseas with that unit. The higher officers were quick to recognize the superior ability and capacity for leadership of Lieutenant Schoble, and in August of the same year he was recommended for promotion. On October 5, 1918, while leading his troops in a divisional attack upon the Bois d'Ogons, near Nantillois, Lt. Schoble was blinded by the fragment of a high-explosive shell.

Because of Lieutenant Schoble's inability to continue in the service he disposed of his command and was treated in hospitals at Vittell and Savanay. His followers and soldiers felt the loss of their beloved Lieutenant very keenly. After his discharge on April 19, 1920, he was returned to the United States where he received additional treatment in the hospitals here. While still in the hospital his orders for promotion to the rank of 1st Lieutenant, Inf., U. S. A., came through and it was with this rank that he was discharged.

Following his discharge, Lieutenant Schoble devoted a year to work for the betterment of the condition of the blind, and then re-entered the University of Pennsylvania. He graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and later received his Master of Arts in American History. He received the highest scholastic honors, being elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Honorary scholarship fraternity. At the same time he interested himself in the various activities of veterans' organizations. He was one of the signers of the application for charter of the Coates-Jordan Post, No. 163, American Legion, which Post he served continuously since his discharge from the army, as Vice Commander. He is also a member of the North Penn Post, No. 875, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was one of the founders of the Philadelphia Post No. 2, 80th Division Veterans' Association, of which he was the first Commander and of which he is now Honorary Commander.

Ever since the war, he has interested himself in the cause of continued service for all who answered their country's call in her time of need. He has been the propounder of this gospel at functions of a patriotic nature throughout the country. His endeavor has been to show to the country at large the splendid spirit which animated every rank of the DIVISION THAT ONLY MOVES FORWARD.

It was Lieutenant Schoble who was largely responsible for building up the Life Membership of the 80th Division Veterans' Association. While the idea of Life Members was a part of the plan originally outlined in connection with the organization of the Association in France, no progress was made in this matter until Lieutenant Schoble presented it at a banquet of the New York Association of Officers in 1920. At this time a number of Life Members were secured and at the Annual Reunions each year thereafter others were added to the list due to Lieut. Schoble's efforts in a large measure, until the present number was secured.

Captain John T. Morgan

SERVED WITH THE 305TH ENGINEERS, 80TH DIVISION

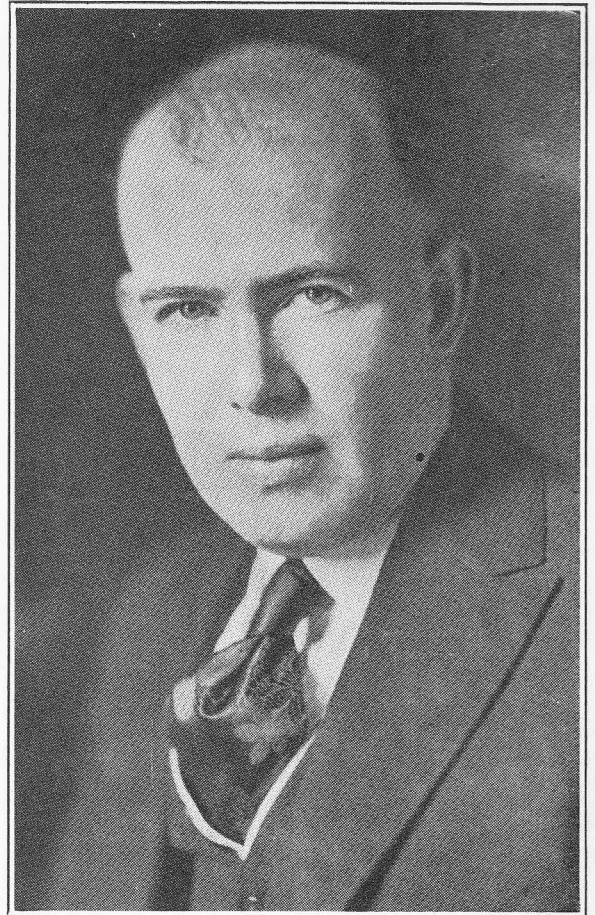

CAPTAIN JOHN T. MORGAN was born at Charleston, W. Va., on November 25, 1889. He received his early education in the public schools of Charleston. He attended Central High School in Washington, D. C., for a while, but later graduated from Charleston High School. He then entered the University of West Virginia and graduated with a degree in Mechanical Engineering. He enrolled in the first training camp at Fort Meyer in May, 1917, staying there one month. Later he spent one month at Bellvoir, Va., Training Camp (now Camp Humphrey), and one month at the American University. He graduated from Training Camp as 2nd Lieutenant of the Engineer Officers Reserve Corp. Later he was assigned to Engineer Train, 305th Engineers of the 80th Division. He was promoted to 1st Lieutenant of the Engineer Officers' Corp in February, 1918, and placed in command of the Engineers' Train. In October he was raised to the rank of Captain of Engineers, U. S. A. In November he was transferred to the office of the Chief Engineer Third Army. He was discharged in France on April 3, 1919.

During April and May of 1918 he was engaged in special work in France and England for the Ohio Brass Company, of Mansfield Ohio. He had been connected with this company before the war.

Captain Morgan is noted for his ability and keen judgment in business matters. At the present time he is President of the Charleston Electrical Company, Charleston, W. Va., which is one of the largest electrical firms in that section of the State, and under his direction it has had a rapid expansion.

For a number of years Captain Morgan has served as a member of the Executive Council of the 80th Division Veterans' Association, and prior to his election as President in 1925, he held the office of Vice President of the Association. His efficiency throughout these terms of office has always been above the average. His judgment and common sense, attention to duty, organizing ability, initiative and capacity indicate his fitness for these higher offices, and judging from these qualifications you can readily see that the 80th Division Veterans' Association during Captain Morgan's term of office was operated in a manner that left nothing to be desired.

During Captain Morgan's regime the 80th Division Veterans' Association was incorporated under the laws of the State of West Virginia in 1925. The members of the Association realize the great work that had been accomplished by Captain Morgan. They had the greatest confidence in him because of his past performances and his knowledge of problems that pressed for solution. This confidence was born of conscious strength, complete mastery, and practical leadership.

RUSSELL L. STULTZ

Historian of the 80th Division Veterans' Association

Russell L. Stultz, journalist and business man of Virginia, who, because of his ability, initiative and excellent judgment, was unanimously elected to the important position of Historian of the 80th Division Veterans' Association in 1924, and which position he now holds. As Chairman of the History Committee, one of the most important committees in the organization, Mr. Stultz has a remarkable record. His achievements are widely known to every member of the Blue Ridge Division. Under the most exacting, trying and perplexing circumstances his vision and energy carried out some of the greatest and most important works in the field of journalism today.

Mr. Stultz was born in Rockingham County, Virginia, on November 12, 1892, and was educated in the public schools of that county. At an early age he began the study of journalism and just prior to the world war was editor of a daily paper in Harrisonburg, Virginia. At the outbreak of the world war he entered military service on September 18, 1917, and was assigned to Company G, 318th Infantry. He served as Sergeant with this organization until his discharge on June 5, 1919. Because of his exceptional and noteworthy services, his excellent performance of duty as a Sergeant, his efficiency and ability in action, he was recommended for a commission as Lieutenant by the Company, Battalion and Regimental Commanders, January, 1919. Mr. Stultz was one of the organizers and the first Commander of the Rion-Bowman Post, No. 632, V. F. W., in 1921. He served as Department Inspector, Deputy Chief of the Staff and National Aide de Camp, V. F. W. He declined the appointment as Sub-District Manager, U. S. Veterans' Bureau in February, 1924. In December of 1923 he was recommended for appointment of First Lieutenant, Officers Reserve Corps.

Since the organization of the 80th Division Veterans' Association in France on April 8, 1919, Mr. Stultz has been an important factor in all activities. He has been a member of the Executive Council since that time and has displayed remarkable judgment in business matters. He was elected Historian of the 80th Division in 1924 and in 1925 was appointed Chairman of the History Committee.

The members of the 80th Division know and appreciate the remarkable manner in which he has demonstrated his ability, his practical judgment and capacity in the historical summaries published in the SERVICE MAGAZINE. During all the period of the publication of the SERVICE MAGAZINE he has been active as one of its editors and contributed many articles of historical and general interest which have made the magazine valued by libraries and historical societies as a source of information concerning the record of the 80th Division. His greatest work in the interests of the 80th has been the compilation and preparation of thousands of pages of data and material for the Divisional History. This has necessitated the most accurate and painstaking work and labor, checking and rechecking War Department records, obtaining information from many members of the Division, and preparing it in proper form for the History. His prompt and untiring efforts during the past 8 years for his Association are well known to all, but can never be adequately appreciated or rewarded. Much of this material concerning the record of the Division would have been lost in the years following the World War, had it not been for the efforts of Mr. Stultz in this connection, and future historians of the Division will owe a debt to him that can never be repaid for the preservation of this data. The History of the 80th Division, when it is off the press, will be one of the finest, most accurate and most interesting Histories ever published, and we owe this record achievement to Mr. Stultz.

THE RECORD OF

The Eightieth Division, A. E. F.*

IN THE WORLD WAR, 1917-1919

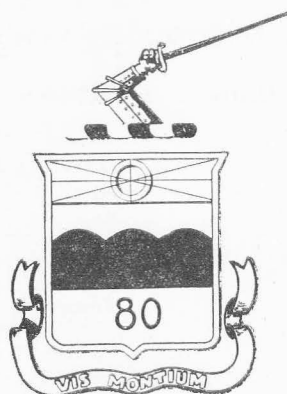

"THE BLUE RIDGE DIVISION"

Camp Lee : Picardy : St. Mihiel : Meuse-Argonne

An Historical Summary Compiled by Russell L. Stultz, Division Historian

Based Upon the Most Authentic Information Obtainable from Official and Private Sources.

(Adapted from the Manuscript of the forthcoming "History of the Eightieth Division.")

EIGHTIETH DIVISION INSIGNIA

The shoulder insignia of the 80th (Blue Ridge) Division was formally adopted in March, 1918, and the design was approved by telegram October 20, 1918, from the Adjutant General, A. E. F., to the Commanding General, 80th Division.

The insignia employed for purposes of military identification by the Division while on foreign service during the World War was adapted from the original Coat of Arms forming a basis for the design. It is described as follows:

Shield of olive-drab cloth, upon which is superimposed in center three blue hills, representing the Blue Ridge Mountains, all outlined in white.

The Coat of Arms from which the Divisional insignia was adapted was executed by Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company, Philadelphia. It is identified by the following Heraldic description:

SHIELD—Argent three mountains in fess azure, a chief gyronny of eight gules and argent and in middle chief an amulet, all counterchanged. In base point numeral "80" of the third.

CREST—On a wreath argent and azure an arm in armor embowed grasping a sword proper, hilt or in sinister bend, point upwards.

MOTTO—On a ribbon gules, outline argent the Latin motto, "Vis Montium" (†) of the second.

†"Strength of the Mountains."

EXPLANATORY NOTES

PICARDY

The 80th Division entered the Picardy sector for purposes of instruction and training. As a unit, it did not hold a section of the front line, nor was it responsible for the defense of any portion of its line. Its units, therefore, receive credit for only that time during which they, themselves, as units, held a section of the front line and were responsible for its defense.

The training period of the Division was divided into three phases. The first phase consisted of the detail of individuals to the front line; the second, of the detail of platoons to the front line; and the third, of battalions. Only for that time which the battalions were in the front line is credit given.

The four infantry regiments of the Division are, accordingly, entitled to front line credit from the time their battalions took over sections of the front line. The regiments of the 160th Infantry Brigade, which were attached to the Third British Army, Sixth Corps, are entitled to such credit from July 28 to August 18, 1918. In the 159th Infantry Brigade, serving with the Third British Army, Fifth Corps, the 318th Infantry has the same period of service, but the 317th Infantry receives credit from July 24, the date its first battalions entered the line.

The Machine Gun Battalions did not progress beyond platoon training, the largest unit any of them ever had in the line at one time being a company. They, therefore, are not entitled to credit for service in this sector.

The Trains Headquarters and Military Police, Field Signal Battalion and Engineers, the only other elements of the Division present as units in this sector, are entitled to credit for the time they served troops in the front line, which was from July 28 to August 18, 1918.

ST. MIHIEL

F. O. No. 3, Headquarters 1st Army, August 27, 1918, ordered the 80th Division to the Chatillon-sur-Seine area, which was in the vicinity of St. Mihiel. F. O. No. 9, Headquarters 1st Army, announced the St. Mihiel attack. Paragraph 2 assigned the 80th Division, along with the 91st and 33rd, to Army Reserve. No other 1st Army orders take the Division as a whole out of Army Reserve.

By Paragraph D (b), F. O. No. 10, Headquarters 1st Army, September 12, 1918, one regiment of the 80th Division was assigned to reinforce the 2nd Division Colonial French. F. O. No. 9, Headquarters 80th Division, in compliance with this order, assigned the 320th Infantry and the 315th Machine Gun Battalion to the 2nd Corps Colonial French. The 2nd Corps Colonial French, by OP. 809, September 12, 1918, ordered the 320th Infantry and the 315th Machine Gun Battalion to reinforce the 2nd Division Colonial French, and ordered these troops to Woimby. In compliance with this order and F. O. No. 9, Headquarters 80th Division, the Regiment and Machine Gun Battalion reached Woimby September 13, 1918, and left there for Deuxmonde aux Boix the same day. In compliance with Secret Memorandum, Headquarters 80th Division, September 13, 1918, it returned to the area of the 80th Division September 14, 1918. The 80th Division was ordered out of the area by S. O. No. 185, Headquarters 1st Army, September 14, 1918.

MEUSE-ARGONNE

The 80th Division moved into the front line in the Meuse-Argonne in the early morning of September 26, 1918. Prior to that time, it was immediately in the rear of the sector held by the 79th and 33rd Divisions.

The 160th Infantry Brigade, however, was ordered by Operations Memorandum No. 1, Headquarters 80th Division, September 22, 1918, to move into a part of the area occupied by the 33rd Division, and the Commanding General was instructed that upon the completion of the move, he would be under the tactical direction of the Commanding General, 33rd Division. The 33rd Division at that time occupied a sector in the front line, and the units of this brigade (160th) are, accordingly, entitled to front line service from the time they reached the designated sector (September 23, 1918), to the beginning of the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

The 80th Division was withdrawn from the front line and assigned to Corps Reserve on September 29, 1918. The 318th Infantry, however, continued in the line under attachment to the 4th Division. The 80th Division again entered the front line on October 4, 1918, where it remained until October 13, 1918, when it was withdrawn and assigned to Army Reserve. It entered the offensive again on October 23, 1918, as Corps Reserve, 1st Corps, and served in the front line from October 31 to November 6, 1918, when it was again withdrawn and assigned to Army Reserve on November 8, 1918.

PAY BY CHECK

There are several advantages in paying your bills by check, but perhaps the outstanding one is—it enables you to know just what you are spending your money for. The small leaks may be stopped without depriving yourself of the essentials.

Checks also do away with the necessity of saving and filing receipts—always a disagreeable task, and one that is usually neglected. A cancelled check is the most valid proof of payment and is easily produced when necessary.

If You Spend All That You Earn

If you spend all that you earn, some other fellow is banking YOUR money, and 20 or 30 years from now, this other fellow will be spending HIS old age in comfort on the income of YOUR money. This other fellow is wise—he is looking ahead. NOW—while his earning power is the greatest—he is laying by a tidy sum to live on when he is old. And he is doing it with the money you are spending foolishly.

Why not beat him at his own game? Save a part of what you earn each week and make certain of peace and comfort when you are old. $1.00 opens a Savings Account and obtains a Liberty Bell Bank.

DISAPPEARED

It has been called to the attention of the 80th Division Veterans' Association that John C. ANOTHER 80TH MAN LEADS Henry L. Cannon, of Glasgow, has been appointed by Governor John S. Fisher to fill the unexpired term of Jacob M. Hoffman, of Johnstown, as Controller of Cambria County.

Mr. Cannon has long been an important factor in the industrial and community life of Reade Township and the north of the country. He has been engaged principally in the coal business, being at the present time a foreman of mines in Reade Township. He was formerly superintendent of mines for the Franklin National Bank of Philadelphia, operating mines as a trustee. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Coalport.

Harry L. Cannon is a graduate of Latrobe High School and of Indiana State Normal School. At Indiana he was active in athletics and was captain of both baseball and football teams.

Shortly after the United States entered the World War, Mr. Cannon joined the army and went to France with the 305th Engineers, 80th Division.

He was rapidly advanced through the non-commissioned ranks to Sergeant and Master Engineer, Senior Grade, and was officially cited for unusual bravery and leadership in action. He was recommended and commissioned a First Lieutenant. He spent 14 months with the A. E. F. in France. He organized and was the first Commander of the American Legion Post at Blandburg, and has been active in that organization and in the Forty and Eight, Voiture 23, of Cambria Co. He has been a member of the School Board of Reade Township for the last ten years, having been elected the last time two years ago. He is treasurer of the Board and also holds the same position on the Board of Supervisors of the township.

SERVICE extends congratulations to the new controller. We know that the office will be filled in a manner that will be most creditable to the 80th Division.

305TH ENGINEERS BAT'N. SGT. MAJ.

Oscar C. Mulhollen, who is local manager of Armour & Company, carried off first honors in a Nation-wide campaign on "Star" Hams, conducted by Armour & Company, and Morris & Company. Mulhollen's reward is a Howard gold watch valued at $200. More than 500 branches of the packing houses throughout the country were in competition, and it speaks volumes for him and his organization that he was awarded the highest honors. He is the first Johnstown to hold the position of manager of the local branch. At the time of his appointment, four years ago, he was the youngest manager in the country. Congratulations, Buddy! We knew you could do it.

Attorney Clyde D. Beistel, associated with Stone, Chalfont & McCandless, attorneys, was sworn in assistant district attorney by Presiding Judge John A. Evans to take the place of Ralph H. Smith, former assistant district attorney who was named assistant United States district attorney recently. Beistel, who is aged 32, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel N. Beistel, and resides in 825 Lincoln avenue, East End. He was born in Westmoreland county, but came to Pittsburgh when a child and has made his home here since. After leaving school in 1920, he taught French classes for several years in Arnold Preparatory school, Penn avenue. He served in Company I, 320th Infantry, 80th Division Veterans' Association, in the World War, and was gassed several times on the Western Front. Congratulations, Comrade Beistel! The 80th Division is very proud of you.

April, 1919—August, 1927

(Compiled by Russell L. Stultz)

April 5—Commanding Officers of Divisional units circularized by Colonel W. H. Waldron, Chief of Staff, for an expression of opinion relative to the organization of an "Association of Veterans of the 80th Division."

April 8—A meeting of unit representatives called by Colonel Waldron to convene at the Y. M. C. A. club rooms in Ecommoy (France), 3 p. m., Wednesday, April 9, "for the purpose of effecting an organization of the Association of Veterans of the 80th Division, and the transaction of such business as may be presented." Each separate unit requested to send one officer and one enlisted man as delegates.

April 9—Meeting of representatives of Divisional units held at Ecommoy (France), "for the purpose of starting an organization to perpetuate the 80th Division after its demobilization in the United States and return to civil life." All organizations except the 313th Machine Gun Battalion and 305th Field Signal Battalion, represented. Colonel Waldron, who stated the object of the meeting, was chosen temporary chairman, and Sergeant Major Miles C. Stahlman (Division Hdqrs.), temporary secretary.

A temporary Executive Committee of eight—four officers and four enlisted men—representing units of the Division, appointed by the chairman from the delegates present, to perfect a scheme of organization, to be submitted at a future meeting. The committee was composed of: Capt. Frederick Hickman (319th Inf.), chairman; Sgt. Alvin C. Hagerman (320th Inf.), Capt. Richard P. Williams (318th Inf.), Sgt. Major Richard A. Ammons (317th Inf.), Capt. Robert T. Barton (313th F. A.), Sgt. Major Robert A. Lampton (315th F. A.), Capt. David S. Bingham (305th Ammunition Train), and Sgt. J. R. Thomas (314th Machine Gun Battalion).

An Executive Committee of eight members, composed of one officer and one enlisted man each from the 159th Brigade, 160th Brigade, 155th F. A. Brigade and Divisional Troops, was authorized, the election of same to be completed by noon, April 17.

Life Membership in the Association was fixed at $50.00, and the Initiation Fee and first year's dues of all annual members at 10 francs, the initial year to extend to June 30, 1920.

Frederick Hickman (319th Inf.), chairman, presided, and Sgt. Major Miles C. Stahlman (Division Hdqrs.), was appointed Acting Secretary. Each member of the Committee was assigned a specific detail of the organization work for study and report at the next meeting of the Committee at Division Headquarters, Ecommoy (France), April 16.

April 12—Bulletin issued by Colonel

Waldron, chairman of Temporary Executive Committee, urging a 100 per cent. enrollment of the Division personnel in the "Veterans Association of the 80th Division," and stating the larger purposes of the Association as follows:

"To perpetuate in civilian life the good things of the 80th Division, and keep alive the friendships and associations we have made; to publish a live, interesting magazine, which will keep the members of the Association informed of the activities of the friends with whom they slept, ate and fought during the most historical and vital period of their lives; to have reunions, where the men who composed the 80th Division will renew old friendships, see again the faces of old comrades, swap reminiscences and, in general, reunion; to have club rooms where practicable, particularly in the larger cities, where members of the Association can drop in and feel at home; to have a permanent Executive Committee, which will assume the physical work of the Association and be an 'Information Bureau' on 80th Division matters and a helpful agency for members who call upon it."

April 15—Initial report of numerical strength of "80th Division Veterans Association," showing 3,048 Annual Members and 4 Life Members, published. Of nine organizations reporting, Division Headquarters, with a percentage of 67, led in ratio of strength enrolled, while the 318th Infantry reported the largest membership enrollment, 982.

Dear Buddies:

Well, well! only a few shell holes till we meet once more at "all man's land." Then we can tell it to the Marines. You know what I mean. On to Pittsburgh—Everybuddy!

Say, Buddy, I am sorry that I did not do my stuff in the May-June issue, but we had all we could do to send out 25,000 copies of SERVICE to all buddies for whom we had an o. k. address. But then, them days are over, so I am going to tell you some of the most important doings that have been done and are going to be done. Get me! Well, Buddy, K. P. is back with us to stay this time, and she will be at the Reunion with all of us. Don't rush, as I will forget my name and explode. What? The R. S. had to increase the office force at Hamilton P. C. to take care of all the extra work so that the reunion will be a huge success. Have you sent in for your R. R. certificate? It pays to have one with you, whether you come by machine or by the air line. You can't tell. You might need it. You know what I mean. The hiking days are over. You know that Bill Fleming, General Chairman of the whole show, has gone and done it once more. You know that this is his third hitch at the get-together game, and they say that experience is the best teacher. So you can expect a big time from 9 a. m. Wednesday, August 31, till the cows come home on Monday 12 a. m. I am not going to tell you all about the "Whiz-Bang," for I want you all to come and see for yourselves.

Have you sent in the name of that Buddy that is not on our books, as we want 15,000 new active members by November 1?

Let's go, Buddy!
Until August 31,
As you were—A. Dud.

PITTSBURGH POST, NO. 3

The Pittsburgh Post, No. 3, held a meeting last Friday, August 12, to make final arrangements for the Tenth Anniversary Celebration at Pittsburgh, on which occasion the members of the Post will act as hosts to the Blue Ridgers from all parts of the Division's territory who will be in Pittsburgh at that time.

Judge D. Paulson Foster, Commander of the Post, heard the reports of the various chairmen of the committees. There reports indicated that the details for the convention have been worked out in the most thorough manner and that the city and its veterans are waiting zero hour to go over the top with the greatest welcome yet extended to the 80th. This will make the third occasion that the Division has been entertained in Pittsburgh, but never before has Pittsburgh prepared as it has this year. In view of the fact that it will be more than an Annual Reunion and will mark the ten-year point since the Division was first organized, the arrangements have been made unusually complete and elaborate.

Members of the Post have been taking an active part in the plans and will be on hand at the stations and in the Moose Temple Headquarters, to make things pleasant for their buddies. It is only hoped that the activities of the Pittsburgh Post will be reflected in the enthusiasm of other Posts, such as Philadelphia Post No. 2, Norfolk-Portsmouth Post No. 1, Petersburg Post, Richmond Post, Uniontown Post, Clarksburg Post and various unit posts which will be represented at the Convention. If every Post makes special efforts to insure that not only its members but that all 80th Division men in its territory learn of the great welcome awaiting them in order that they turn out in true 80th Division spirit, the success of the Reunion will be assured. The only reward for the immense amount of work connected with a Convention of this kind is that received in knowing that it has truly been a representative gathering of all who could possibly attend. The sacrifices of those serving on the committees will be amply repaid if the attendance is in keeping with the great preparations that have been made.

PITTSBURGH POST URGES YOU TO MOVE FORWARD WITH THE 80TH TO PITTSBURGH, AUGUST 31. "Let's ALL Go!"

Sunday, Memorial Services. Let's go, "Buddy."

HISTORY OF PENNSYLVANIA AUXILIARY NO. 1, 80TH DIVISION VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

The Pennsylvania Auxiliary No. 1, 80th Division Veterans' Association, a permanent organization growing out of the 80th Division Welcome Home Association of Pittsburgh, Pa., was formed at a meeting held in the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce Building on October 17, 1919, by relatives of the men who served with the Blue Ridge Division.

The first meeting was held April 18, 1919, at the home of Mrs. Ellie Sellers, of 7017 Hermitage street, Homewood. The following day the Pittsburgh newspapers contained detailed reports of this very interesting meeting. The house was "packed to overflowing" with the sweethearts, wives, mothers and sisters of the boys of the 80th who took preliminary steps toward the formation of an organization to give the soldiers a fitting reception on their return home from France. The organization grew rapidly and when the last meeting was held, six weeks later, just before the return of the Division from overseas, in Memorial Hall, it was reported that five thousand people were present.

Mr. H. J. Wilbert was elected president; Mrs. Ellie Sellers, honorary president; Miss Sue Sellers, secretary-treasurer; Miss Nell Murray, assistant secretary-treasurer.

When the exact date of the arrival of the soldiers was received from Washington, committees from the organization departed for Boston, Philadelphia, Newport News, and New York City, to meet the various units of the 80th Division. The delegates were Mr. H. J. Wilbert, Mr. Wm. L. Fleming, Miss Sue Sellers, Mrs. W. A. Gordon, Miss Nell Murray, Mrs. Hannah Gelder DeRoy, and several others.

The heroes were given a rousing welcome. The city was beautifully decorated with banners and flags, flowers and ribbon, making the streets and buildings a riot of striking colors. The entire city turned out in gala attire, and the conquering heroes were delighted with this glorious reception and welcome home celebration. The happy, smiling faces of the loved ones awaiting the first glimpse of their boys, the contented and victorious countenances of the khaki clad conquerors, the happy chatter of care-free youth, the cries and cheers of the excited onlookers, the noise and din of traffic—all were scenes that will never be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to be there.

The Late Miss Sue Sellers, First Secretary of the Pennsylvania Auxiliary

The organization presented the 80th Division with the finest "Old Glory" that could be had, also a silk divisional banner, in memory of the boys who made the supreme sacrifice in France.

General Brett realized that the good work of this organization could not end here, so at his suggestion the members decided to perpetuate the organization as an auxiliary to the 80th Division Veterans' Association. A formal organization took place in the auditorium of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce at which a Constitution and By-Laws were adopted and officers elected. The name "Pennsylvania Auxiliary No. 1" was adopted.

The great work of this splendid organization still manifests itself by entertainment of the disabled veterans in various hospitals, the contribution toward Christmas boxes which are sent to these soldiers confined in our hospitals, annual picnics where everything is given free, Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving, and Christmas parties, and various other notable events. The funds are obtained through the holding of dances and boat rides, and through the annual dues received from the members of the auxiliary.

The following have served as presidents of the Auxiliary: Mr. H. J. Wilbert, 1919-21; Mr. Wm. L. Fleming, 1922-25; Mrs. W. A. Gordon, 1926-27.

Miss Sue Sellers served as secretary-treasurer from the time of formation of the organization until her death, February 28, 1925. The organization sustained a severe loss in her death as she devoted all her valuable time and energy to the work of the Auxiliary. She responded very generously to every appeal and was thoroughly familiar with all matters pertaining to soldier welfare.

Miss Gertrude Horne was elected secretary-treasurer at the time of Miss Seller's death, which office she now holds.

Through the hearty co-operation and assistance of the past and present Resident Secretaries of the 80th Division Veterans' Association, Mr. Reuel W. Elton, Mr. Henry R. Curry, and Mr. M. J. Thomas, the Auxiliary has been able to accomplish great things. The members of the Auxiliary wish to express their sincere gratitude to the 80th Division for their splendid spirit and co-operation.

We think it is fitting at this point for the 80th Division Veterans' Association to take this opportunity to express our appreciation, and to congratulate this fine organization of true American women for the splendid work they are doing, and we hope they may continue their excellent work for many years to come.

A TOUR OF FRANCE WITH CO. M.

We landed at Brest on the first of June,
We arrived there, it seems, not any too soon;
The subs lay waiting in the Bay of Biscay,
The gunners kept us from becoming their prey.

We hiked to the rest camp over the hill,
And slept out in tents, nearly died from a chill;
A detail was picked and sent to the yards—
From the looks of the job some one stacked our cards.

We were loaded in Pullmans, the 40x8,
And the trip to Calais was sad to relate:
They gave us new rifles all gooie with grease,
As we started to clean them our ire did increase.

The next issue was gas masks all spick and span,
With these on our maps through the gas house we ran;
Once more on the train en route to Samer
We landed, had lunch and again were away.

A hike through the country, the scenery was great,
When we landed at Thouberville it was quite late;
Our training while here was mixed up quite a bit,
Bayonet and grenades, there was no time to sit.

On the Fourth of July we held a field meet,
Some of the boxers went out on their feet;
Fieffes, it seems, was our next destination—
This ride in the Pullmans caused us consternation.

The town was alright with one little exception,
The old Jerry bombers gave us some reception;
The hike to the drill field and back every day
Always gave us something pleasant to say.
Our apartment while here was a one-room affair,
With four or five cows at the foot of the stair;

Our favorite pastime was playing at "Ouse."
Once in a while you ran into a souse.
For eats there was mutton, cheese and rabbit.
The marmalade was just like Babbitt;
We became better soldiers all the time,
And got along for weeks without a dime.

The French madames were right there too,
Teaching us how to parlez vous;
Then came Elsie Janis with her dance and song,
Her big act was kidding the Tommies along.

On July 23rd to Rubempre we strolled,
To the villagers there our fish tales we told;
Our trip to the trenches in this town were play,
For we knew that the Jerries were far, far away.

Then came the real trip up to the front;
When the howitzers barked how those boys did grunt;
These days at the front were like Fourth of July,

80TH DIVISION SPONSORS MUSICAL COMEDY TO RAISE FUNDS FOR REUNION HERE

Every once in a while there comes to the fore one of those joyous mixtures of pathos and smiles, tears and laughter, of melodious music and sprightly dialogue which keeps an audience on edge, laughing, crying and applauding throughout an evening and sends them home happy and contented by the story that has been told behind the footlights.

Such a production was "BUDDIES," a musical gem written by B. C. Hilliam, which, through the arrangements made by the Pittsburgh Post No. 3, and the Pennsylvania Auxiliary No. 1, was presented by the Duquesne Opera Company during the weeks of July 18 and July 25, in preparation for the Tenth Anniversary and National Reunion of the 80th Division, to be held here at Pittsburgh August 31 to September 4, inclusive.

Critics have said "BUDDIES" was one of the most pleasing and entertaining performances that had been staged at Duquesne Garden this season. There isn't any member of the cast in particular that could be singled out as the star of the performance. Miss Laine Blair, as the little French girl, Julie, in love with the shy American soldier, was very adorable. There wasn't a man in the audience who didn't long for the chance to assault and batter the villain in the piece as the doughboys threatened before the denouement.

Miss Sarah Edwards, in a more tragic role than ordinarily, won the sympathy of the audience from the first act, and later when she sang "Memories" and "The Rose of No Man's Land," she almost broke up the show. She was Madame Benoit, the mother of the captivating and petite Julie, and the owner of a French inn, where the American doughboys were quartered. The efforts of these soldiers to extricate the inn keeper from her many difficulties forms the basis for much of the humor. The whole tale relates the lighter side of the life which the soldiers lived when in the service "over there," and the performance probably struck a responsive chord in the memory of the many thousands of veterans who were present.

Surrounding the desire of Dean Cole, in the role of the doughboy lover of the charming Julie, to wed the little French peasant girl, comedy, drama, pathos, tears and smiles are mixed to furnish one of the most delightful plays which has been given to Pittsburgh this season. Cole was idiotic, funny and pathetic.

The musical number of the male ensemble, W. Clay Inman and Hollis Devany leading were perfect. Tom Rider's ensemble number, "Mah Lindy Lou," at the opening of the second act, captivated the entire audience. Matt Hanley, as the Jewish doughboy, with his side-splitting comedy songs, provided the fun during the show. Victor Esker portrayed a tall, lanky Frenchman, the villain of "BUDDIES." As a girl from Brooklyn who came to France to meet her fiance, but instead inconveniences the love affair of Julie and "Babe," Dean Cole—Miss Ethel Clark was delightful, and her song numbers were beautiful. The work of the chorus was excellent.

In response to a popular demand, which grew constantly throughout the first week, "BUDDIES" was staged for the second week. No other production which the Duquesne Opera Company

HONORABLE STEPHEN G. PORTER

Honorable Stephen Geyer Porter, Republican, of Pittsburgh, was born near Salem, Columbiana county, Ohio, May 18, 1869. In 1877 he moved to Allegheny, Pa., where he has since resided. For two years he studied medicine, and read law in the office of his brother, L. K. Porter. He was admitted to the Allegheny County Bar in December, 1893, and has since practiced his profession. He is a member of the law firm of L. K. & S. G. Porter, Pittsburgh, Pa. He has never held any office until he was elected to the Sixty-second Congress, except that of city Solicitor of the city of Allegheny from 1903 to 1906. He was elected to the Sixty-second Congress and re-elected to the succeeding ones up to and including the Seventieth Congress. He is chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives, and is regarded as one of the most able statesmen in the National Capitol. In October, 1921, he was appointed as a member of the Advisory Commission of the Conference on the Limitation of Armament and later assigned to the chairmanship of the sub-committee on the Pacific and Far Eastern Questions. He represented the United States at the Conference between the nations for the curtailment of the narcotic and drug trade. His service in behalf of veterans has been outstanding and it was through his long and able work that the bill restoring the rank of Brigadier General to Council Lloyd M. Brett, U. S. A., retired, was finally effected.

staged at the Garden during its season had created such a furore of enthusiasm, and the additional week's run marked a departure from the Garden policy of a new show every week.

Several thousand 80th Division veterans in Pittsburgh, members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, G. A. R., Spanish-American War Veterans and other soldier and patriotic organizations, as well as the general public, attended the performance.

The wounded veterans from our Government Hospitals here were honored guests of the 80th Division at the Saturday matinee. They were brought to the theatre in cabs, donated by the Green Cab Company.

A review of "BUDDIES" would not be complete without mentioning the "army-life" atmosphere created by the V. F. W. Band, which marched through the aisles of the Garden, playing music that proved tremendously popular, judging from the applause which greeted them. Rupert Graves, the orchestra conductor, deserves great praise for his genuine contribution to the play.

80TH DIVISION VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

The City of Pittsburgh was honored, delighted, and inspired when colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, celebrated aviator and hero, visited here on August 3. One hundred thousand people were at Bettis Field when Lindbergh and his plane, the famous "We" arrived. Hundreds of thousands more lined the streets along the route of the 33 miles he traveled about Pittsburgh in an automobile. More than fifty thousand gathered at the Pitt Stadium for his address there. Almost one thousand attended the banquet for him that same evening in the William Penn Hotel.

The "Spirit of St. Louis" was sighted by the crowds at Bettis Field at 1:58 and two minutes later zipped over the airport, low, at high speed. Cheers, half suppressed by the excitement of the silvery monoplane shooting past, rose from the multitude. There was a bustle about the officials of Pittsburgh gathered to greet the flier.

In addition to feeling thrills in greeting the great hero of the air, the people gave a warm liking for the wholesome young man and his ways. Mayor Kline introduced him as "that courageous, skilled, dauntless and intrepid explorer of the infinite, that matchless but modest hero, that unspoiled American boy—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh." A Pittsburgh editor said: "Youth looks upon 'Lindy' as its answer to those who were worrying over the quality of the young of today. Parents point to him as an example." Everyone who has heard him speak admire his grit, his bravery and courage, and those who have seen him love him for his modesty and boyishness. He is honored and respected for his history-making achievement. Everyone is interested keenly in this young master flier.

Pittsburgh's reception of Lindbergh was notable for its display of the heart of a community.

Just before the banquet took place a committee of the 80th, headed by Judge D. Paulson Foster, visited Colonel Lindbergh in his room at the Wm. Penn Hotel to confer Honorary Membership in the 80th Division Veterans' Association upon him.

Colonel Lindbergh accepted the honor in his usual modest way, and wore the insignia of membership, the little gold lapel button, as he entered the banquet hall.

"Lindy," of course, was not with the battling Eightieth when it carved its niche in the hall of fame and piled up its immortal World War record, for he is only twenty-five years of age now. The 80th Division Veterans' Association, numbering 15,000 members in Allegheny county, proved their admiration for the intrepid lone eagle of the air by making him an Honorary Member.

"We wish to confer upon you an Honorary Membership in our organization because of the magnificent service you have performed in cementing the relations established between France and the United States in 1918," said Judge Foster.

The 80th Division is proud to number this fine American, this splendid soldier and daring hero among its members.

The committee of 80th men who interviewed and greeted this distinguished guest were: W. L. Fleming, M. J. Thomas, Jacob Schulgold, J. J. Madden, R. W. Elton, John E. Sugden, Jr., W. B. McFall, C. R. Haley, B. C. Clark, R. E. Daume and Christ Kramer.

A TOUR OF FRANCE WITH CO. M.

With the Jerry artillery and flares in the sky.

The gas and shell fire were bad enough,
But the cooties we got sure treated us rough;

It was in this mellee that Red Cave was hit,
It bothered him much for he was unable to sit.

Then back to Rubempre we wended our way,
With a trip to Varennes for more war play;

We never reached the trenches for some unknown reason,
So back to Rubempre as this was our busy season.

Then again the order came, roll packs and sweep the town;
By this time our Company were hikers of renown;

First stop Fieffes, then to Domleger we hiked,
Where they loaded us on Pullmans, this was the stuff we liked;

We unloaded at Poincon and hiked to Colmers le Haute;
You know the old bunk only one more kilo.

On the first of September we were Dancevoir bound,
Upon our arrival more Pullmans we found;

A short hike to Trouville then on to Tannois,
And our hike to Gery filled us with joy.
The cooties in this town were sociable, too,

LINDBERGH

(Prize Winning Article.)

They call him "Lucky Lindbergh"
And "The Flying Fool" at times,
But his flight across deep blue sea
Was not reading nursery rhymes.
He hopped off at the break of day
And a crowd with silent mien,
One and all were praying
That in Paris he'd be seen.

A lot of pluck, a sturdy plane
Were with him all the way,
And the lanky Air Mail pilot
Is sitting on top today.
Our foreign Allies across the sea
Are doing all it seems
To honor this daring Yankee lad,
Who has reached the goal of his dreams.

No tempting offers of stage or screen
Have changed this flyer's plan
To place his name before the world,
As a competent flying man.

—J. Regis Gavin.
Co. M, 318th Inf.

We had numerous friends before they were through;
The billets we found were not very clean.
In fact they were worse than any I'd seen.

Had the Eightieth left all this muck in its wake,
A trip to the kitchen a few boys would take;
Our next two stops in the woods were made,

With lots of nice trees and plenty of shade.

Then on to the front where the "Big Push" began,
It was started by "Brett" and his fighting clan;
It was a sorrowful sight as we came along,
It made us think that life was all wrong.

Those boys had fulfilled their oath to the flag,
No duty they sirked, not once did they lag;
Their bodies were shattered but spirits unshaken,
For they were sure they would not be forsaken.

Up through this field of pain and strife,
The ground that was gained cost many a life;
Then away from the front and back to Cuisy,
When we reached this dump we sure were woozy.

The next order sent us to Nantelois,
Our objective was the Ogon de Bois;
They shelled us here for every meal.
And the shells we got were not unreal.

Signorrelli and I were holed up there,
And between us we offered more than one prayer;
After dark we moved toward the wood,
The Jerry machine gunners peppered us good.
We finally made it up on the hill,
Of those Jerry machine guns we sure had our fill;
We reached our objective all, safe and sound,

Then the rest of the Company could not be found.

To our former position we later came back,
It was lucky for us that we carried no pack;
Then 319 relieved us, to Buauzee we went,
There were a few stores so some francs there we spent.

They moved out the horses to allow us to sleep,
We went to a hay loft where the hay was quite deep;
From to Les Islettes then to Chatel Chehery,
The Germans had been here, it looked very dreary.

On to St. Juvin, where, our pup tents we pitched,
Then the notice came out that Jerry was ditched;
So all through the night to Buzancy we hiked,
From the looks of this place Jerry's guns were not spiked.

Lieutenant Niven got his in this town,
As a shell through the roof came hurtling down;
For the next few days we hiked some more,
Till we thought we were at the Kaiser's door.

On November 6th we came out again,
We knew not why, or where, or when;
On the 11th we had good news, too,
An Armistice signed and the war was through.

Then came that long hike back from the lines,
With nothing to do but read the signs;
Wassy was the first real town,
We spent two days with our packs laid down.

The Chateau de Caroline ended this tour,
It was a real hike that few did endure;
The stragglers came in for more than a week,
Of free rides and free meals they often did speak.

Then later to Rougement we wended our way,
We like it so well we decided to stay;
We played plenty of baseball, had lots of fun,
The Fourth Platoon team was the better one.

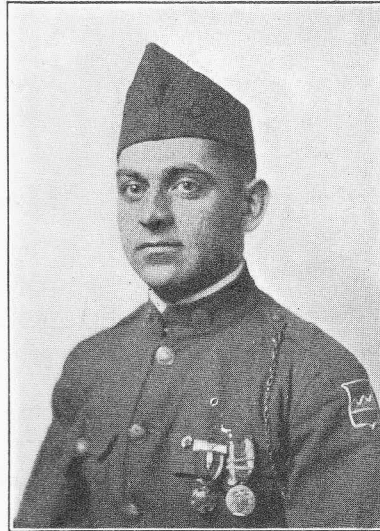

Our stay here, though, was not all play,
For we had some maneuvers that took us away;
To Dijon we went on week-end passes,
And of course we had some Non-com classes.

Then Eddië Aurin rounded up a crew,
For a Minstrel Show, there was burnt cork, too;
We did not what the audience thought,
But we all came through without being shot.

To the rifle range we went quite frequent,
On the range some were quite delinquent;
Then the General said he wished to look us over,
So we stood all morning in a field (no clover);

OUR RESIDENT SECRETARY

M. J. Thomas, who was appointed Resident Secretary of the Association at the Reunion in Petersburg, Va., served as a Master Signal Electrician in the 305th Field Signal Battalion of the Division. Prior to his service in the World War he spent three years in the U. S. Geographic and Survey Service in charting the waters of the Pacific on the U. S. S. Supply. Since the war he has been engaged as an Instructor in Electricity and Radio subjects in the North Continuation School in Pittsburgh. He has served two terms as a member of the Executive

M. J. THOMAS

Council of the Association, and as Resident Secretary had the difficult task of re-establishing the headquarters of the Association in Pittsburgh following the decision made at the last convention to move it back to Pittsburgh. He has displayed a quick ability to grasp the many details connected with the position to which he was appointed, and through his efforts and tireless energy the headquarters of the Division has been able to accomplish much that seemed impossible when he stepped into office. The publication of the magazine, increase of membership, establishment of headquarters, and functioning of the Association during the past year has been made possible through his unselfish sacrifice of time and private interests to the end that the old 80th would once more start moving forward. That he has accomplished this is evident from the revival of interest among the members and from the excellent reports the Association is in position to present to the members at the convention. M. G. C.

A train ride to Mayet, a hike to Pontvallon,
The nice part of this hike, there were no packs strapped on.

Baths, inspections, baseball and drill,
Came often enough to give us a thrill;
This town was not bad, the cafes there were few,
But there was enough wine to make us feel blue.

Then another nice ride on the Pullman cars,

With our Yank engineer there were plenty of jars;
It won't be long now someone ventured to say,
In another day or so to the States we're on our way.

They assigned us to the Nansemond, oh what an awful fall
From the stately ship Leviathan the best one of them all;
It sure was a wonderful feeling to me,
To stroll down the gang plank and once more to see
The land we had left just a year before
When we sailed away to the sunny French shore.

A final rap at the cooties they took,
Then another bath and we hunted the cook;
Along came Pay-day we were all flush,
It was different now there was no vin to gush.

Then to Camp Dix for the finishing touch,
And the little red chevron we wanted so much.

GREETINGS FROM THE COMMANDER OF THE PITTSBURGH POST

Greetings:

The Pittsburgh Post No. 3 of the 80th Division Veterans' Association most cordially invites each member of the 80th Division, his family and friends, to be its guests in Pittsburgh, August 31 to September 4, celebrating the Tenth Anniversary of the organization of the Division.

The members of the Post send hearty greetings to their comrades of the 80th and live from now to August 31, cherishing a hope that the Tenth will be the largest and most enjoyable anniversary held so far, and that in leaving it will be with feelings of regret that the happy association with their comrades could not have been of longer duration.

So, come one, come all. Bring your families and your friends that as the years roll by the old 80th may bind its sons more closely together and perpetuate the spirit that carried it to fame on the battlefields of France.

D. Paulson Foster

319th Officers' Reunion

The most successful of many reunions of the 319th Infantry Officers was held at Washington, D. C., on May 13th and 14th, 1927. Ten years previously, to the day, many of the officers had begun their army career at the ROTC at Fort Meyer, and therefore the date seemed an especially fitting one. The committee in charge, and notably Steve Hopkins, the president, and Ted Cogswell, the secretary of the association, had worked long and hard to make the affair a success, Steve alone writing over one hundred personal letters to bring the men back, and the Washington crowd, who had the actual arrangements in hand, achieved a 100 per cent score.

The Racquet Club, one of Washington's finest clubs, was our headquarters and nearly all of the crowd put up there. Many had arrived by Friday noon, and from that time on there was not a dull moment. The war was re-fought from start to finish. Many new and amusing incidents were recalled, and apparently the truth is still more or less regarded in reminiscing. Ten more years however, and a real crop of A-1 liars will have developed.

Many played golf on Friday afternoon and in the evening, the crowd sat down to dinner informally, and later either took in the movies, played poker, or continued to talk. Saturday morning was spent in greeting many additional arrivals, and at 2 p. m. the crowd set out in automobiles for the National Cemetery at Arlington. There a handsome wreath from the regiment was laid on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier by Steve Hopkins, in the presence of the officers. A visit to Fort Meyer, with numerous recollections of many's first experiences with "squads east and west" followed, and then a tour of some of the more interesting places in Washington, especially the Lincoln Memorial. On returning to the Racquet Club, active preparations for the banquet that evening were undertaken, and at 7 o'clock, about 45 men sat down to dinner. Meantime, much to everyone's delight, General Brett, Col. Cocheu, and Lieut. Col. Catts had arrived. The dinner was excellent, and at its conclusion, Steve Hopkins, with a few well-chosen words, presented to the General and the Colonel, gold pencils, suitably engraved, as mementoes of the occasion. Both the General and the Colonel responded and then various members were called on—Col. Catts, Gordon, Merrill, O'Connor, etc. Official movies, lent for the occasion by the Signal Corps, many of which were reels of the 80th Division, then carried us back to France, and when they were finished Erskine Gordon was elected President of the Association and Ted Cogswell re-elected Secretary. The party continued informally for many hours. Several present stayed on in Washington for the greater part of Sunday.

This reunion stood out, not only as a most enjoyable occasion, but also even more as an example of the remarkable esprit de corps of the 319th, typified by the distance from which many came back just to be with the old crowd again—the Colonel from Camp Benning, Georgia, Brokaw from Wisconsin; Jenkins from Ohio; Leon Hendricks from Mississippi, etc.

Thanks to a movie camera owned by Steve Hopkins, some excellent pictures were taken of the crowd, and to these reels are being added from time to time, bits taken of various members of the regiment and their families at home. This should prove extremely interesting at the next reunion, and if any men have similar cameras or can get some friend to take a short strip of themselves, their wives and children, they are urged to write to Hopkins, 180 Maple street, Englewood, New Jersey, so that their pictures may be incorporated with the others.

A full list of those present is not available, but among those on hand were:—Brigadier General Lloyd M. Brett, Col. Frank S. Cocheu, Lieut. Col. Gordon Catts, Erskine Gordon, Hugh Obeare, "Doc" Connally, Ted Cogswell, "Weary" Cruit, "Cap" Arnold, Rembrandt P. Keezell, Parson Hooper, Leon Hendricks, Perc Hendricks, Percy Jones, Charley Hunter, Steve Hopkins, Sev Miller, Frank Morrell, D. C. Jones, Charley Auger, Perry Huston, Byron Van Etten, "Gibbie" Gibson, Tom Carr, Charley Merrill, Bob Paul, Harry Price, Tay Brokaw, Abie O'Connor, Phil Myers, B. B. Barrett, Mike Hogan, Charley Muse, "Tillie" Tilghman, "Heine" Sparks, "Doc" Wilson, Charley Herr, Jim Hudson, Rowland Jenkins and Carl Heflin.

M. H. Levine is now with I. Robbins & Son, 203 Market street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

I would thank anybody for the address of Lieutenant Baldwin formerly of Company D, 305 A. T.

Some of you guys from Company D are a little stuck up about coming to Pittsburgh for the Convention. Forget that stuff and get here. Maybe you'll meet Dynamite down here.

Co. F., 305th Am. Tr. In Mercer Co., Pa.

"U-Lye" The Month of fire works and Bastille Day, not forgetting Eighth Anniversary of the flight of the R34, England to these United States; and the Ninth Anniversary of Co. F's Vin Blanc Barrage in Langon, France, and subsequent battalion order, "Co. F confined to camp under arrest." No casualties. But, Oh Mamma; "Such a morning after."

Run across our old skipper, later Col. O. C. Witaker, some moons ago. Had a delightful hour's visit. He is now in an educational game, lecturing, and he sure could lecture. Small, but oh my, that was he. He is still playing the army game. What passing the buck? Oh my no! Not our O. C. He's with a Horse Outfit at Louisville, Ky. N. G. S'pose he was tickled pink when I told him that the Association was working on a history. He told me to have him paged when it was out as he wanted a copy. He hangs his old "chapeau" at 204 Plymouth Building, Cleveland, "O-Haitch and-a-ten." As the Irishman said when he first saw the Battleship "Ohio".

Charles B. Kidd, one of the Co. F's original A. W. O. L. 'ers, still hails from Sharon, Pa., and draws his pay at Petroleum Iron Works, Petroleum, Ohio, just across the line. Charles is married, oh yes.

Milton Hope, Greenville, Pa., better known as "Hopewell," graced the beautiful of Sharon with his presence the other day. Hopewell looks bad. He's worrying about the women. Will he never learn. He tried it twice. Keep it up, old man. As the boys say, "Where there's women, there's "Hope." Is he training for Nat Goodwin's laurels?

John (Get In Step) Wills stopped me the other day and asked as to the progress of Co. F's history. I told him that Weight broke the wagon down, and it was Wait of a different spelling that put the old banking term "Not sufficient funds" on the history. Every time we tried to get the necessary jack to put it through, they cried, "Wait till my ship comes in." Sure Mike, they were too dumb to realize it can't come in until it first goes out. Only a few being interested. And let this be a hot shot right from the shoulder, "Get behind the Eightieth Association with a little more than hot air and let George do it, or you'll be tuning in on your old radio some nice evening and hear ye ole S.O.S. (let it mean what it may), that the good old ship Blue Ridge is on the rocks." The old ship is in command of its third mariner (Curry, Stutler and Thomas), and as each in turn have weathered some pretty bad storms, don't let "We" as the crew fail to do our duty, both financially as well as spiritually. "Many hands make light work." You will remember I know back in the old days at Lee, it was much easier for the company to move the wood pile than the awkward squad. A memory flashed in my old bean just now, of a scene in a banquet hall in Pittsburgh during the last reunion held there. The scene pictured was of a speaker calling upon and urging the members to help out the R.S., and give their support to make the Association a success. And when he asked for life membership applications, one bird got up and yelled "Alright—mentioning the name of his outfit; I presume it was his—Let's go." Wonderful spirit, you bet. No one got hurt in the rush nevertheless. Remember the game we played while kids "Follow the leader." That's the spirit that gets results. Why didn't that gink whoever he was, if he already was a "Lifer" get up and wave his card, or do his stunt, and add "Follow me." Then they would have had no reason not to get their feet wet. A good example will do more good than a lot of hot air. For instance a non-stop air flight was recently broadcasted, and while the tongue and newspaper lashings were in session, out of the blue a lone flyer from Missouri appears on the scene, unknown, unheralded, and unsung. Here's hoping, he said, "I'm from Missouri; you'll have to show me," as he took off across the great Atlantic—a chap of five and twenty, a load of gas and oil, a couple of "Sam Handwiches," and an over supply of good old Yankee "Pluck", not luck, as many try to make it. Again I say, "Help out our R.S." Money may be the root of all evil, nevertheless, we could use a little of the root. Now Buddy, if you are already in the swim keep your shirt on, this don't mean you. But if you're not, well, you know what the judge says, "Guilty eh; alright pay the costs." In this case it's three ducks.

Just run across a newspaper clipping telling of the wonderful success of James J. Wallace, a well-liked sergeant of Company F. At the time of the printing of the clipping "Jim" had been unanimously chosen as County Agent of Osceola county, Iowa, at a special meeting of the Farm Bureau of that county. His headquarters are to be at Sibley, Iowa. Many of the old gang will remember Mrs. Jim as an occasional visitor to our mess table at Lee. Now since Mr. and Mrs. Jims and the two Jimzies are entitled to some belated congratulations, we will all give them with a vim.

Sebastian Sponberger, the "Bierre" hound of Company F and I, shook hands the other Sunday. Also met his better half. Yes he's been in for a few moons now. Sponny says he can't kick now. He sure must have been tamed of late, for in the old days he had "Hee Haw and her name was Maud" beat to a frazzle. Married life sure does make 'em or break 'em. Guess that's why I'm always broke.

The Divisional Headquarters outfit at Camp Lee will possibly remember Harry Pebley of Farrell, Pa. He now has a "Prof." on his name, and is a member of the faculty and football coach, Sharpsville High, Sharpsville, Pa. Wasn't so long that Harry buried his Dad. Yep married. Some of you X-Buddies better get in touch with him, and also get the low-down on his status as an Association member.

Doughboys of the 80th take notice. Who knew a Tom or possibly "Tomo" Lyons, as he is known now. For your information he is a member of the florist firm, Lyons Bros., Sharon, Pa. Also another doughboy, Steve Doyle, brother of War Correspondent Chas. assigned to the 80th, and now Sports Writer, Gazette Times, Pittsburgh. Steve is secretary of Realty Ins. Co., Railroad street, Sharon, Pa.

Not so long ago read in War Stories Magazine, May or June issue, about an artillery detail guarding some heavy stuff near the front, and the author worded his story so that this detail, after dark were talked into believing that another detail belonged to their outfit and got away with the H. S. Author crediting theft detail to 80th Division. Well! Goes to show that when our Red Legs shot up theirs, they didn't gold brick, but went and got some one elses. Wasn't that what the Liberty Bonds were sold for?

Raymond Kane, the erstwhile lean, long and lanky three striper of Captain Bingham's—One Sergeant, One Corporal, Six Privates, Absent Sah-Outfit, or as listed in the Who Wow, the war column under the Moniker, Company G, 305th Ammunition Train has done gone and done it. What? Mercy no, not suicide! Worse than that! Got married in June. Ray was the elongated center on the Camp Champion Basket Ball Team 1917-1918.

Harry Hughes, another mule skinner de luxe of G. Company took upon himself a wife a while back, and according to his calling cards he has placed his real estate business on the shelf for the time being while he electioneers for the necessary vote to make him sheriff of Mercer county, Pennsylvania. Hale, fat, and jovial—that's Harry all over.

Paul J. Lavery one time custodian of Horse Battalion Ammo Train paper work, (guess better use his rank or he might shut off my pass) Batt. Sgt. Maj., is now a daddy. Yes, a boy! Born in the Lone Star state last month. The old man is with an oil tank company. Exact address unknown.

Morris E. Pearlman, one time Canteen Shekle Grabber in the early days of Lee in '17, is visiting his parents in Sharon, Pa., having motored from Hollywood, California. The last week in June is kind of lost as to Morry's Real Outfit after he lost his soft job in the Canteen.

This is a little out of order, nevertheless some of the Company G gang that were promoted to the M. P.'s in January, 1919, might recollect the Gent, as they were strong for his line. F. W. Thomas's, physical director, Mesves Hospital, Center France, present address is Manager, Fitch & Thomas Store, No. 4 One Four Oh One, Shehy street, Youngstown, Ohio.

All together now gang some —. Say what do you think of this? Found it in a Farrell, Pa. newspaper. They gave the paper away. No wonder! (Note Verbatim) At the time of the World War the members of the Young Men's Slovak Association of Farrell, Pa., knowing that sooner or later the United States would enter the Great Conflict, organized the James A. Farrell Military Corps and began to practice military training. On April 16, 1917, when war was declared by the United States, the Association held a special meeting and a telegram was sent to President Wilson offering their services in a body to their country. They were the first military troop to leave Farrell, numbering about 40 members. Following is a partial list of this famous corps or corpse—How the heck do you spell it? You original F. Company men surely remember how X-I-ently they were trained—John Bacon, George Beharry, George Frank, Martin Gaydosh, Saunders Hollick, Mike Leno, Mike Hoha, George Rogan, Joseph Volansky.

See by the paper where Luke Lloyd, ex-Buck of 313 Machine Gun Batt., took his family to see the movies the other night. Luke gets his mail in Wheatland, Pa. No street address necessary. Town not big enough, even if one U. S. President kicked off in the Burgh some years ago.

Again I say these Wet-Runs of the 80th R. A.'s, are as hard to keep track of in Civil Life as they were when the Top Kick began to think of details.

Note Gang—Ur Dews R Do.
LeRoy Marstellar, X-Sgt. and Ass't.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Pittsburgh cordially invites the members of the Eightieth Division to make full use, during the Convention days, of the Association privileges offered by the several convenient Branches of the Association throughout the city.

Frank W. Stewart, first with Co. F, then with 305 Motor Batt., lastly drove a hack in Division Hdqtrs Troop, hangs out his shingle in Sharpsville, Pa., as agent for that Billion Dollar man in Detroit.

Glen Stewart of 305 Regimental Headquarters, is also bivouaced in Sharpsville.

305th Field Signal Battalion

Carl G. Liden, formerly of the Supply Detachment of the 305th Field Signal Battalion, is now the Chicago representative of the Charles W. Poulson & Sons Carpet Company.

Charles Ring, formerly lieutenant of "A" Company, is still with Swifth & Company at last report, but has been transferred east from Chicago, which was his home originally. Mr. Ring now resides at Boston.

A. F. Combs, first C. O. of the Battalion in the early days at Camp Lee, is carrying on in great shape for the Automatic Electric Company. He is out on the Pacific Coast most of the time and sells so many private exchanges they have to build an addition to their factory every once in a while.

H. C. Erlacher, of "C" Company, was a resident of Chicago for some time, being engaged in selling that noble work, The Encyclopedia Britannica, but he has been lost track of for a good many months.

Davis M. Shryer, formerly Captain of Company "C," is now a resident of Chicago, and is Western Manager of the Cine-Mundial, which is, so to speak, the Saturday Evening Post of South America, printed in Spanish, and circulated in all Spanish speaking countries of the world. He finds the work most interesting. Captain Shryer is married and the proud father of a boy five years' old.

The annual banquet will be held on Saturday, September 3, at the Fort Pitt Hotel. Everybody out for a big time on this date. Get in touch with Mr. M. J. Thomas, 405 Penn avenue, for reservations.

Captain Harold E. Brabant, formerly of B Company, is now located at 292 Chelsea Place, Buffalo, N. Y. He is anxious to hear from his old "buddies."

Judge D. Paulson Foster had some time of it censoring the length of the actresses' costumes in the play "Buddies." The young ladies didn't mind the censoring 'cause the "Censor" was so good-looking, and one of the best things about the young judge is that he is not married yet.

Co. "G" 320th Infantry Notes

The fifth annual reunion get-together banquet of Company "G," 320th Infantry, will be held at Hotel Chatham, 423 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., Saturday evening, September 3, at 7 p. m. Notices have been sent to all members of the company together with tickets. It was the idea of the committee that owing to the fact that the National 80th Division Veterans' Association was staging their eighth annual reunion and tenth anniversary here in Pittsburgh August 31, September 1, 2, 3 and 4, and Monday being Labor Day, it would afford the out-of-town men of the company ample time to travel back home in comfort. It is planned to have the members of the company attend the picnic at West View Park during the day arriving in the city in time for the banquet. It is requested that all members of the company make every effort possible to be in attendance at the national reunion so that we can make a record showing for "G" company. Members of the company are requested by the secretary to make their remittances for the banquet reservations as soon as possible, so that the committee will be able to make the proper guarantee to the hotel management. Final date for reservations will be August 29. During the month of March a canvass of the company was made to determine whether the men wanted the banquet staged during the reunion instead of in March, and more than sixty (60) returns were received saying they would attend the banquet in September. So let's go, boys, we will be looking for you. And a good time is assured all who do attend.

George J. Klier,
1133 Chartiers Avenue,
McKees Rocks, Pa.
Secretary Co. "G," 320th Inf.

Andrew Hesidence, formerly Corporal Co. "G," 320th Inf., and now located at Box No. 853, El Paso, Texas, where he has been undergoing treatment for his health, is very much improved and was an unexpected visitor here in Pittsburgh during the month of July. Andy was called home owing to the illness of his mother, and by the way he was not traveling by himself; he was accompanied by Mrs. Hesidence and the daughter. Emergencies made it necessary for him to return the first of August. We all regret that he could not stay for the reunion.

Doctor G. Cromer, formerly Private Co. "G," 320th Inf., is located at Cheat Bridge, West Virginia. Doc writes that he is still experiencing great difficulties with the Veterans' Bureau in getting his claim adjusted, having been gassed and severely wounded in France. He states that he has been in ill health and has had two operations since leaving the service. He filed his claim with the Vets' Bureau at Charleston, W. Va.

Joseph J. Arenth, formerly Sergeant Co. "G," 320th Inf., and formerly located at New Castle, Pa., is residing at 114 Quinby avenue, Warren, Ohio, in a recent letter received from Joe he states that he will attend the reunion, that he is now married and happy and is settled down in a cozy little home for two. He is employed by the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company, as a salesman. He cordially invites any of the boys driving to Cleveland at any time to visit him, and further says that the home is open to them as long as they wish to stay. Congratulations from all the boys, Joe.

Harry F. Smead, formerly Co. "G," 320th Inf., formerly located at Crosby, Pa., is now located at 65 Railroad street, Bradford, Pa. Harry says he will attend the reunion, and be there with bells on.

Jos. P. Rhein, formerly Corporal Co. "G," 320th Inf., is now located at 298 Butler street, Etna, Pa., where he has a beautiful establishment. Joe's job now is putting them under six feet. He is engaged in the undertaking business. Any time any of the boys motor through Etna stop and pay him a visit; you may linger, but he'll get you in the end.

John W. Smith, formerly Private Company "G," 320th Inf., is residing at 1821 Main street, Hollywood, Woodlawn, Pa., and is in the employ of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company at the above place. John recently paid a visit to McKees Rocks to see Klier and discussed the coming reunion of the 80th Division, and the banquet of the company. John says he will be in attendance at the reunion without fail. John is married and has a son, whom he is trying to convince that Dad won the war.

Any members of the company knowing the addresses of the following men will kindly communicate same to Geo. J. Klier, Secretary. Paul B. Allen, Donald E. 80TH DIV. VETERANS SEE PRIVATE SHOWING OF NEW WAR FILM, "PENNSYLVANIA VALOR"

A group of 80th Division veterans who are members of the general committee arranging the Tenth Anniversary Celebration and National Reunion of the 80th Division which will take place here, August 31 to September 4, were guests of the producers of the film, "Pennsylvania Valor."

Commenting on the picture, M. J. Thomas, Secretary of the 80th Association, stated:

"As members of one of Pennsylvania's divisions whose service in the A. E. F. is depicted in this film prepared from official signal corps pictures taken on the battle front, the opportunity was given our committee to see the picture, as its first showing to the public happens to take place during the week of the 80th Division Convention here. Our organization is in no way connected with the presentation of this film in Pittsburgh.

"The front line service of the 28th, 80th, 79th and 42nd divisions is shown by authentic signal corps moving pictures, accompanied by an unusually fine selection of maps that give an accurate and visual understanding of the part the Pennsylvania troops played in the war. The men who have selected, arranged and titled the films have done so with an understanding and regard for historical value that cannot be too highly commended. To the veteran who would like to again see the scenes in which he had a part, to the person who wants a true version of what actually happened, and to the thrill-seeker who wants to find out whether "truth is stronger than fiction," the film will appeal. Unquestionably, Pennsylvania, the State that furnished the second largest quota of all the States, being exceeded in number of troops furnished only by New York, has been slow to realize what was accomplished by its sons, and "Pennsylvania Valor" is a true and uncolored presentation of facts about their service taken during the battle filled with grim realities of war without the "glorified" frills usually added for effect."

by Temporary Executive Committee discussed, but no action was taken relative to their adoption. The following amendments to the "Articles of Organization" were ordered by the Council:

"That all members of the Division who lost their lives in France be elected Honorary Members of the Association; that their names be placed on a bronze tablet on the Roll of Honor at the Headquarters of the Association.

"That all French Liaison Officers who were with the 80th Division during its period of active service be elected Honorary Members of the Association, and that letters be written them to that effect."

April 27—Special meeting of Executive Council called to convene at Division Headquarters, Ecommoy (France), on April 29.

April 29—Memorandum issued by Colonel Waldron, chairman, stated that "Reports received to date from the various units throughout the Division indicate we have now approximately 9,000 paid memberships in the Veterans Association—about one-third of the personnel of this Division." All Regimental and Separate Unit Commanders were urged to start a final drive with the object of securing a 100 per cent. membership before the Division left Ecommoy Area for the Port of Embarkation.

pledging its full support to Major General Adelbert Cronkhite, former Division Commander, in his fight to bring to justice those responsible for the murder of his son, Major Alexander P. Cronkhite, and to do all in its power to correct the injustice wrought upon General Cronkhite in his enforced retirement from the U. S. Army, at the next session of Congress. Copies of the resolution ordered sent to the President of the United States, the Secretary of War, the Attorney General and to every Member of Congress.

The appointment of a special committee was ordered by the Association for the purpose of working in behalf of the Congressional measure designed to restore General Brett to his war-time grade.

A resolution declaring itself heartily in favor of the "National Defense Test" was adopted by the Association.

The annual report of Chairman Russell L. Stultz, of the Division History Committee, was submitted and accorded a vote of thanks.

Major General Adelbert Cronkhite addressed the Association, calling attention to the work and activities of the Women's Service Legion, of Richmond, Va., Mrs. G. T. W. Kern, president. He stated the Council was sponsoring a movement to make former President Wilson's birthplace a National Shrine, and to make "Armistice Day" a World War Memorial Day. The matter was referred to the Executive Council for attention.

The Association authorized the incoming Executive Council to investigate into the feasibility of a Divisional Reunion in France in 1928, a report on same to be made at the 1925 convention.

Two silk flags were presented the Association by Miss Sue Sellers, president, and Miss Gertrude Horne, secretary, upon behalf of Pennsylvania Auxiliary No. 1, 80th Division Veterans' Association. Major General Cronkhite accepted the flags for the Association.

Upon invitation of the city of Clarksburg, W. Va., and various civic, veteran and fraternal bodies, presented by Comrade Sol Burka (314th F. A.), the Association voted to hold its sixth annual Reunion and Convention in Clarksburg in 1925, the date to be fixed by the Executive Council.

Mr. Henry R. Curry (320th Inf.) was unanimously reappointed Resident Secretary by the Executive Council at a meeting at the Fort Pitt Hotel, August 29.

Following lengthy consideration of the financial condition of the Association, the meeting recorded itself as favoring the continuance of the Division Association.

Mr. Henry R. Curry, Resident Secretary, and Mr. Burg C. Clark, Assistant Secretary, submitted their resignations, effective March 1, 1925, and these were accepted by the Executive Committee, which tendered them a resolution of thanks in appreciation of their loyal services to the Division Association, extending over more than five years.

A letter from Capt. John T. Morgan, Vice President, of Charleston, W. Va., was read, enclosing invitations from the Mayor and Chamber of Commerce of Charleston, inviting the Division Association to establish its National Headquarters in that city and offering free permanent space in Charleston's new Municipal Building for the purpose. The President of the Association was empowered to investigate the matter of removing Headquarters from Pittsburgh to Charleston, and a special committee of three members, composed of Capt. Cella, Lieut. Fullerton and Mr. Galleher, was appointed to act with him in reaching a decision.

A communication from the Division Historian, Russell L. Stultz, urging the Association's active support of the Division History, was read, and the Executive Council voted to make every effort to interest Local and Unit Posts of the Association in securing advance subscriptions for the History.

February 18—Meeting of Emergency Committee of Executive Council, appointed February 14, by President Frank Schoble, Jr., for the purpose of considering the invitation of the Mayor and Chamber of Commerce of Charleston, W. Va., to establish the Headquarters of the Division Association in that city, held at No. 141 Broadway, New York City, with all members present.

The committee accepted the invitation and authorized the removal of Headquarters from Pittsburgh to Charleston, on or before March 1, 1925.

Mr. Boyd B. Stutler (314th F. A.) was appointed Resident Secretary of the Association and Editor of "Service Magazine," effective March 1, 1925, succeeding Mr. Henry R. Curry, resigned.

March 1—Headquarters of Division Association opened at 413 City Hall, Charleston, W. Va.

August 27—Meeting of Executive Council at Waldo Hotel, Clarksburg, W. Va., Lieut. Frank Schoble, Jr., President of the Division Association, presiding. Upon request of the Division Historian, Russell L. Stultz, the Council voted to further recommend that the editorial and financial details of the Division History be separated, the Historian to be charged with the former and the Resident Secretary with the latter.

The annual report of the Division Historian, Russell L. Stultz, was read and filed with the Minutes of the meeting.

The Resident Secretary was instructed to secure designs for an official 80th Division badge or medal and to report at the next meeting of the Council.

The officers of the Association were authorized to enter into contract for the publication of the history of the 80th Division, advance payment to be made in such sum as funds are available. An Editorial Board, to pass upon the Division History, was appointed, as follows:

The Associated Charities of Pittsburgh

A Family Welfare Association

The Associated Charities is an organization which befriends families and individuals in trouble. Its general offices are located in the Fulton Building; its work is carried on through six districts. The offices of these districts are located as follows:

Central District	532 Fulton Building
Allegheny District	502 Fulton Building
Southside District	215 Fulton Building
Eastern District	Negley Bldg., East Liberty
Penn-Butler District	4300 Butler Street
Ohio Valley District	1719 Beaver Avenue

These district offices are in charge of trained, experienced visitors who respond quickly to appeals for help for those in need of counsel, advice, guidance or material relief. The visitors conduct careful, sympathetic inquiries to secure facts which will help them to formulate effective plans for treatment so that causes of distress may be discovered and removed. When self-support is not possible and no natural resources are available, relief is given on the basis of a carefully worked out budget adapted to the needs of each family under care. Supervised help is given until the family becomes self-supporting.

There was a time when the physician bothered very little about any diagnosis. What difference did it make, when he only had one remedy. If there was anything the matter with the man, he bled him. Sometimes when there was nothing the matter with him, he bled him. It is not so very long ago that the people sought a dentist only when they had a toothache. The dentist had only one tool—a pair of forceps—and out came the tooth. We have advanced beyond that stage. Today the dentist has an X-ray picture before he proceeds, and many times the physician takes pictures of the most intimate kind before he determines what to do. The public concedes all this to a physician, but many still think there is only one remedy for poverty and that is material relief.

It is not so very long ago that many people thought that social work meant giving baskets to the poor at Christmas time, or getting a child a job to help his widowed mother, or seeing that a little girl got shoes in order to assure her attendance at Sunday School. It was only after many discouraging experiences that we have gradually learned that even after the Christmas season had long passed, the family remained hungry; that the child for whom we got the job was perhaps deprived of his only chance for an education, and that the widowed mother had been helped at too high a price; that the little girl for whom we got the shoes came from a family where there were many other things out of joint. In other words, there was every probability that these symptoms would occur until the causes of the trouble had been discovered and removed.

Some of the families the social worker handles present comparatively easy problems; but every one deserves and receives the careful study of the trained social physician.

The wisdom and knowledge of those who are professionally trained to serve families in trouble has grown just as the knowledge and skill of physicians have grown. A special type of person is necessary to do this kind of work—a person of tact, resourcefulness, imagination, energy and sympathy. We know now, however, that these qualities alone will not effect the necessary demands. Besides these personal qualifications must be added a knowledge of how the human mind works, of how the human race has developed, of how material needs are created and controlled, of how a city takes care of its weaker citizens, of the discoveries which are being constantly made in the realm of medicine, how to discover where we are socially weak and where we are socially strong. In other words, the person who undertakes to help a family make these adjustments, must be sure that she has at her command a sufficiently broad intelligence to get the long look ahead. Ordinarily this means in concrete terms, a college education plus a great deal of experience in the field of social work.

Already there are several separate schools of social work. Some schools are connected as departments with State universities which undertake to give technical training in social work. There is such a department in the Carnegie Institute of Technology and the Pennsylvania College for Women. Also, it is possible for properly qualified persons to enter social work by way of an apprenticeship course which is given by the Associated Charities. This course covers a period of fifteen months, college graduates are accepted as apprentices. They are paid $75.00 a month for the first six months, after which there may be an increase of $5.00 a month every three months. The next course opens September 26, 1927. Applications may be received at any time by writing to the Associated Charities, 535 Fulton Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Division to unveil the 80th Division memorial at Nantillois, France, next May.

The Committee on Auxiliary Organizations recommended to the Association the formation of a Junior Auxiliary, to be composed of the sons, brothers and grandsons of veterans of the 80th Division, and the report was referred to the Executive Council to devise ways and means to put the suggestion into operation.

Captain John T. Morgan reported that the Congressional legislation designed to procure Brigadier General Lloyd M. Bretts retirement on the basis of his war-time rank had passed both Houses of Congress and was apparently assured of final enactment into law. The report was responded to by General Brett, who expressed his warm appreciation of the efforts of the Division Association and its members in behalf of the measure. Comrade Wm. L. Fleming, Honorary Member of the Association, described the long fight waged from Pittsburgh to secure passage of the legislation, crediting its successful outcome to Comrade Burg C. Clark's indefatigable efforts. Comrade Clark was extended the thanks of the Association by a rising vote.

The annual report of the Division Historian, Russell L. Stultz, describing progress with the Division History and explaining some of the difficulties encountered, was rendered and he was accorded a rising vote of thanks.

Upon motion of Major General Cronk-hite, Captain John T. Morgan and Sgt. Boyd B. Stutler, retiring President and Resident Secretary of the Association, were tendered the thanks of the organization. Comrade Stutler's unselfish services as Resident Secretary without remuneration throughout his tenure of office were warmly commended. A resolution of thanks to the city of Charleston, W. Va., for free quarters granted to the Association in the City Hall, and other courtesies, was unanimously adopted.

The Committee on Place of 1927 Reunion recommended that the place and date be referred to the Executive Council, which suggestion was adopted by the Association.

The Rev. Father Edward A. Wallace, Chaplain of the Division Association, addressed the convention, and was responded to by Dr. Frederic Poole, Chaplain of Philadelphia Post No. 2.

Comrade Charles E. Pollard, of the Committee on Permanent and Business Headquarters, recommended that the Association's permanent headquarters be established in Petersburg, Va., for the pur-

During The Past Year

The Family Welfare and Relief Department furnished some kind of relief to an average of one hundred and seventy-six families each week. Coal, milk, groceries, clothing, shoes, medical attention, legal advice, and transportation were provided for those in need.

A Temporary Home for children, conducted on the North Side, and a Fresh Air Home at Oakmont during the hot summer months, where over four hundred mothers and children had a two weeks' vacation.

The Industrial Department provided 100,629 meals and 43,831 lodgings to hungry and homeless men free. A number of these men were sent to us by the different organizations throughout the city. The public of Pittsburgh is not asked to contribute one cent toward the support of the men who come to us for assistance. This Department is supported by the gathering of waste materials such as newspapers, magazines, discarded clothing, and old furniture.

The Lodging House for colored men at 1001 Webster avenue furnished 106,864 lodgings, of which 15,987 were free.

The Five Cent Restaurant enables the small salaried man to get good, wholesome food at a very low cost.

pose of placing the Division's records and trophies, and that quarters for such headquarters were available. He further recommended that the business office of the Association be established at the place of residence of the Resident Secretary. Both recommendations were adopted and referred to the Executive Council for execution.

August 28—Meeting of the Executive Council held at the Hotel Petersburg, Petersburg, Va., with President-elect Carlo D. Cella presiding.

The resignation of Comrade Boyd B. Stutler as Resident Secretary of the Division Association was accepted with regret. Comrade M. J. Thomas (305th F. S. Bn.), of Pittsburgh, Pa., a member of the Executive Council, was appointed Resident Secretary to succeed Comrade Stutler and the Headquarters of the Division Association were ordered transferred from Charleston, W. Va., to Pittsburgh, where it was stated free quarters would be available. The transfer was directed to be made effective at once, and Comrades Stutler and Thomas were designated to handle the removal of the Association's records and office equipment.

August 28—Joint meeting of the Executive Council and Editorial Board 80th Division History, held at the Hotel Petersburg, Petersburg, Va., with Capt. Carlo D. Cella, president of the Division Association, presiding. Various phases of the History were considered and the present status of the undertaking was outlined by the Division Historian, Russell L. Stultz. Comrade Boyd B. Stutler, secretary of the Editorial Board, announced that he would be able to contract for the printing of the History on very advantageous terms. Major Lincoln MacVeagh, Recording Secretary of the Association, proffered the volume free advertising space in the lists of "The Dial Press." A committee of three, representing the States of Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, with Lieut. T. H. Edelblute (320th Inf.), of Pittsburgh, Pa., chairman, was appointed by President Cella to investigate the feasibility of placing the History among chapters of the "Daughters of the American Revolution" in the three States named and instructed to report its findings as early as possible.

The Duplex Stoker-
embodies a distinctive method of fuel distribution that is so uniform and flexible as to maintain a thin hot fire that seldom needs cleaning. This assures ample steaming capacity and fuel hauling power; efficient use of coal throughout the range of power requirements; practicability of multiple division runs; and minimum attention to fires even by enginemen of limited experience in stoker operation.

HISTORY COMMITTEE EIGHTIETH DIVISION VETERANS' ASSOCIATION

(THE BLUE RIDGE DIVISION) HEADQUARTERS HAMILTON, P. C.

TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE 80TH DIVISION—PAST OR PRESENT, RELATIVES—OR ANY PERSON INTERESTED:

This letter is addressed to you in order to supply information relative to the forthcoming History of the 80th Division.

It has been decided by the Division Association to publish a large one-volume History of approximately 500 pages which will embrace a comprehensive, representative and authoritative record of the 80th Division in camp and overseas. The book will be profusely illustrated with maps and photographs descriptive of all phases of the Division's training period and combat service, and will include numerous important features, among them being the official Divisional casualty list, both American and Foreign decorations, all War Department, G. H. Q. A. E. F., Divisional and Brigade citations, Embarkation and Debarkation tables, lists of Division personnel captured by the enemy, statements of prisoners and material taken, enemy units engaged, advances made, station lists in the A. E. F., strength reports, rosters, commendatory orders and messages, and much material never before published.

The volume will constitute a complete narrative, the full and authentic story of operations and achievements of the Division that "Always moved forward," a credit to the Eightieth, an enduring monument to its heroic dead and a valuable memento for every man who served with it at any time. Its ultimate success must depend largely upon the measure of your support and co-operation.

A Divisional History Committee has been formed, and its members have agreed to undertake the assembling of the necessary data and compilation of the History gratuitously. Much progress, extending over the past four years, has already been made and it is expected to have the volume ready for distribution during the next year. The expense of organization and preliminary work has been underwritten by members and friends of the Division, and we are assured of a book meriting your approval and subscription.

The Eightieth Division Veterans' Association, in fourth annual convention at Norfolk, Va., in 1923, unanimously decided that the costs of publication and distribution should be defrayed by means of individual subscriptions at the fixed rate of $5.00 per copy, thereby reserving for the Division the honor and prestige of financing its own History and safeguarding our best ideals and traditions.

You are earnestly requested to fill out and mail the attached subscription form promptly, in order that the initial edition of the Division History required may be ascertained without delay and thus insure a sufficient supply for every individual desiring a copy of the volume. All communications should be addressed, and remittances be made payable, to Treasurer, 80th Division History Committee, P. O. Box 1412, Charleston, W. Va. All subscriptions accompanied by remittances will be filled in the order of their receipt, upon publication of the History; all other subscribers will be notified when the book is ready for delivery.

SUBSCRIBE NOW, BUDDY. Co-operate with the committee, and the 80th (Blue Ridge) Division will live in history as it did during the World War—among the foremost of the American Expeditionary Forces. Assist us by passing the word to some other members of the Division who may not have received this notice.

Yours in Comradeship,

RUSSELL L. STULTZ, Chairman,
History Committee.

P. S.—No funds can be spared for advertising this history—so act now—today! The date of its publication is dependent upon the measure of your response. Every subscription aids in expediting the work.

*New magnificence
 new power, new features
 new lower prices!*

STEPPING forward in the full sway of its strength, independence and stability, Chandler now brings to the forefront a brilliant array of 1928 models. . . .

New cars with oceans of satin-smooth power—with a getaway like a jack-rabbit—able to climb serenely up steep hills in high gear—and able to maintain express-train speed clear across the continent and back. . . .

New cars with steering made easier than ever—with springs that really absorb the jolts—with every mechanical requisite for long life—with a chassis that LUBRICATES ITSELF when you push a plunger with your foot. . . .

New cars with a wide choice of color harmonies—with an extensive range of new lower prices. New Special Sixes at $945 to $1235; new Big Sixes at $1495 to $1795; new Royal Eights at $1995 to $2195; all prices f.o.b. Factory.

We soberly believe these to be the most valuable motor cars now before the American public—and we ask you to go as far as you like in making comparisons.

The Official Source Records of the World War

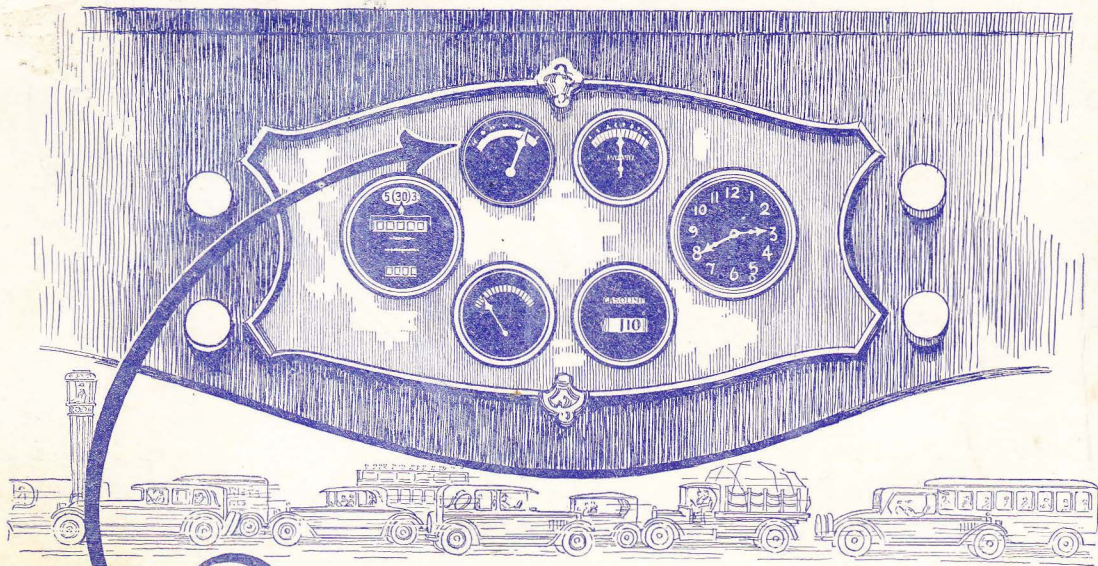

Shortly after the ending of the World War, an association composed of 1500 International Specialists under the direction of Charles F. Horne, Ph.D., United States Government expert on history with the A. E. F., started gathering material for a work that is more complete than any which has been prepared or likely to be compiled concerning the war. Many of the experts assisting as members of the Association, which was named "The National Alumni Association," had served with the Colonel House Commission sent to Europe by President Wilson to investigate the causes and effects of the war. The material that this commission obtained from all the nations involved was secured from the reports and records in the secret archives of these countries.

Starting with the causes leading up to the war, the National Alumni Association prepared seven volumes which contain source material from 1914 to the close of the conflict. These books are more than volumes of history written upon the opinions and conclusions of the men compiling the data. They are the unbiased facts supported by the official documents of the French, English, German, American, Italian, Austrian and other governments—the reports made to their respective governments by the leaders on both sides relative to the battles and actions and engagements. The work forms the most complete and valuable collection of authentic material that has ever been compiled. It is presented in such form with references, diagrams, tables, etc., in addition to many chapters of easily read narrative that it is clear to the layman as well as the expert.

Through special arrangement with the various governments, each volume is bound in the same binding as covers the Peace Treaties of each nation.

The publishers felt that some special arrangement should be made to those who served in the war before offering the work to the general public, and with this in view, the volumes at present are obtainable by the veterans at a lower price than they will be later when the Records are made available to the public. In addition each set of books bought by a veteran contain his service record engrossed and bound in his individual set.

The 80th Division Veterans' Association has just completed an arrangement with the publishers whereby it will be possible for every Blue-Ridger who secures a set to have his record and the dedicatory pages of the volumes bear the insignia and official seal and approval of his old division. The Executive Council has endorsed the Official Source Records and highly recommends the set to every veteran as a collection of all the facts relating to the war that is beyond anything yet produced. Those who want future generations to learn the real story of the war should by all means add the Official Records to their Library.

The PRESSURE GAUGE

MANUFACTURERS of automobiles are careful to lay great stress upon the importance of oil pressure as indicated by the pressure gauge upon the dash. It should always register maximum, else trouble begins. Proper register is obtained and maintained by the use of proper oil of required grade. As the oil is diluted by passage of unburnt fuel, past the piston rings, the pressure becomes weaker and nearer the danger point. The sealing of piston rings with the oil from the crank case against this unburnt fuel prolongs the quality of the oil. Many good motor oils will provide the proper seal and if the motorist knows what brand will accomplish this requirement, he is safe in his purchase.

THAT NEW IMPROVED SUPREME MOTOR OIL is manufactured for the express purpose of efficiently lubricating internal combustion motors. It possesses the body or viscosity for oil pressure—it provides a tough lubricating film on cylinder walls and bearings and sustains a more impenetrable seal around the piston rings.
