To many, this issue of "Service Magazine" will be received with both interest and surprise. In other years a small folder announcing the National Reunion of the Division was mailed to those members of the Division for whom a good address was had. This year in view of the special character of the 80th's Tenth Anniversary Celebration, it was felt that the Division's members—both active and inactive, would welcome a copy of "Service," telling all about the biggest event that the Division Association has planned since the establishment of National Headquarters in Pittsburgh in 1919.

Once a member of the 80th—always a member. It is rather late to get a transfer even if one desired it, and we don't know of any of the Buddies who are exactly ashamed of their old outfit and would like to call themselves anything else than True Blue Ridgers.

Eight years ago we returned to our homes and ten years has elapsed since the grand old Division was formed. This is worthy of taking about five days off from our work to consider and give thought. Many things have happened in this period. Comrades have passed to the Great Beyond—young comrades have been born and are growing up—new friendships, new duties, and new experiences in life have been the lot of all of us, but that dreamlike experience of 1917 and 1918 has not effaced itself from our memories, although it may be hazy in spots—they were sad days and glad days, but the glad ones overshadow all others. At least life is more pleasant if this really does apply.

The 80th is one of the very few, and we believe from what we have learned, the ONLY National Army Division which came out of the War with a Veteran's Association, organized in France, which has actively functioned from that time to this, maintaining a business office or headquarters for the service of its members and publishing a clean, interesting and helpful magazine carrying news of its veterans. The magazine was first issued in October, 1919, and has been published continuously since that date to the present time, maintaining a non-sectarian and non-political policy, endeavoring to uphold the ideals once fought for by the men it represents. Its copies will be found in the reference rooms of the Congressional Library, Carnegie Libraries, Historical Societies, etc.—a source of information for future historians of the Division.

The maintenance of our Association and its Magazine has only been possible through the support of its active members—those who pay their dues and subscriptions—attend Annual Reunions and take an interest in nothing more than keeping headquarters informed of their correct addresses. Have you done your share? It is not too late to re-enlist if you think the cause worthy. Indifference is deadly, but sincere constructive criticism and outspoken differences lead to improvement.

This magazine may go from one obsolete address to another until it finally reaches you, but if it does you can co-operate by helping us correct our records—write in your barrage.

WHAT AWAITS THE BLUE RIDGERS AT THE TENTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

At last, everything is in readiness for the glorious reunion of the 80th Division. Every member is keyed with anxiety and happily looking forward to the meeting in which old friendships will be renewed, and pals of yesterday and the Great War days will clasp hands again in hearty greetings. The din of the Great War has subsided with the increasing years, but the friendships of those who shouldered arms in the great struggle will again be realized, the spirit of those who trudged along in the mire and mud, in the ways leading to battle will again be rekindled, not in the spirit of defense and blood, but in the joyous and sincere spirit of good fellowship. Of all reunions in the world, there is none nobler, none finer than the gathering together of war veterans—the kind and the brave—those same men whose hearts throbbed with “love and country.”

Great will be the desire of all to see the pals of those bitter yet glorious war days, to chat again of the good old times spent together, to glory in the heroic acts and deeds of heroism which characterized the American soldier and which made him feared and loved by the entire world, and again to greet with happiness the friends and loved ones of those boys who suffered and endured all and willingly gave up everything to assist the veterans in their onward course to victory and glory.

On August 31 the famous Division and friends will arrive in Pittsburgh, the workshop of the world. Scouts, well posted on information regarding locations of hotels, will greet you and immediately direct you to the Moose Temple, the Reunion Headquarters which is located in a convenient place in the heart of the city with quick access to all important parts of this historical city. Members are requested to register immediately upon their arrival in order that no time be lost in the participation of the events of the Reunion. It is for every member's own benefit to do this, and to acquaint his friends with his “headquarters.” All the buddies in Pittsburgh will be on duty to lend helping hands to make you acquainted with the plans and happenings of the convention. Nothing has been left undone to make this visit worth while, and everything and everyone has been secured to make these few days in Pittsburgh as pleasant as possible for all. The Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies have shown splendid spirit and co-operation in helping us make the tenth anniversary of the Eightieth Division Veterans' Association the best ever. The Mayor and Council of our city have planned a royal welcome for you. Let's go, buddy! Forward to Pittsburgh!

Much has been written of the achievements and valor of the Eightieth Division, but this is not our purpose here, for we are preparing for the reunion of this great body of America's finest and the very mention of such recalls to all the memories of the splendid deeds of the great turmoil of the war. Yes, instead of a great gathering of men armed to the teeth for conflict, decked in battle array, in pompous armaments, eager for battle, we find the veterans preparing for a joyous march or drive, whatever the case may be, to the great City of Pittsburgh, to participate in a number of delightful festivities, arrayed in the mantle of peace, and equipped with all the necessities that go to make up an Eightieth Convention.

The old serious war countenances will be changed to ones of mirth; the old battle-axe will be put aside, and the banner of joy raised and given vent to in the great progressive city of Pittsburgh. Everybody will arrive in that new car, Cadillac or Chevie, bought for the occasion, filled to the “brim” with the happy smiling faces of friends and families, eager to glimpse the city decked in palms and colors of brilliant hues. A greater nor a more enthusiastic welcoming never awaited another organization in the City of Pittsburgh.

It is claimed that before anything has reached its real test in any endeavor or respect, it must be tried in the City of Pittsburgh, and it is said, too, that this city does things up in the fashion in which they ought to be done. This convention will be no exception. The last convention here was an event never-to-be forgotten, and this one should far sur-

GREETINGS FROM GEN. BRETT

To the Veterans of the 80th Division,
A. E. F.

Greetings:

Come to Pittsburgh for the greatest reunion of the Grand Old Eightieth. Come to Pittsburgh to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the beginning of the most wonderful two years of your life; to revive memories of Camp Lee where you first put on the uniform and learned squads east and west; where you first met the buddy who was so close to your heart during the trying days of France and the more dreadful days of conflict and suffering. It may be that he did not return with the old outfit, then you will join with others in paying respect to his memory and taking the steps necessary to preserving a record of his heroism in the pages of our history and erecting a monument upon the field where he fell.

Your comrades want to see how you look, and to hear how the world is treating you. Maybe to gather around the table in happy surroundings and to learn of the wife and the little ones.

The old Division has not disbanded. It is still moving forward with the same pep and fighting spirit as of old—get the cadence! Pittsburgh and its generous people extend to you a warm welcome and assure you a good time that will linger long in your mind.

pass the other due to the fact that Pittsburgh has progressed in every way. Facilities, public utilities and transportation lines all throughout the city have been increased and improved to an extent almost phenomenal. Besides these conveniences, the hospitality of Pittsburgh is known far and wide, and we assure you that every member will leave this great industrial, constructive and historical city with an impression that will long be remembered, stamped with the feeling of brotherly love and friendship.

The five days of the reunion, August 31 to September 4, will be given over to registration, sight seeing, business meetings, dances, mid-night shows, ball games, banquets and memorial and religious services.

On Wednesday, August 31, the opening of the reunion will be given over to registration, after which there will be sight-seeing trips during the day, on which the boys will be given the opportunity of seeing the great constructive progressiveness of our city at work, and the old historical points of interest in the heart of the city and its surrounding hills. One of the most noted of these is the new Point Bridge at the meeting of the two great rivers, the Allegheny and the Monongahela, which form the Ohio river near the famed old Block House, a relic of the early days of civilization of this now massive city. This new Cantilever Point bridge is the only one of its kind in the world, while the new Seventh Street and Ninth Street Bridges are of a Cantilever type which is familiar only to this city and the city of Coblenz, Germany.

Continuing our journey along the foothills of Mt. Washington, on which Mount a new boulevard is being constructed, then to the new Liberty Tubes, the longest concrete and only one of its kind in the world, to the newly planned lands of Mt. Lebanon, returning again by way of the new Armstrong Twin Tubes recently constructed at Forbes street, then along the Bluff skirting the classic walls of Duquesne University, one of the oldest institutions of learning in the State. The view from this point will again show to all the progressiveness of the Steel City, for just below the University Campus is the skeleton framework of one of the longest steel constructed bridges in the world—the Liberty Bridge. This reminds us that Pittsburgh, through its spirit of liberality, hospitality and friendliness, gives vent to its feelings by calling everything of greatness “Liberty,” and we want you, too, to take the liberty, be at liberty and enjoy liberty while you are here. However, we must return to events of the day, for in the evening there will be a business session. You are an important member of this organization and you will want to become acquainted with the business of the Division. Immediately following the meeting you will proceed to the roof-garden of the Moose Temple where a lively time will be in store for you in the form of a dance and reception, at which the old hob-nailed shoes cannot do the damage as of yore to the dainty slippers of the fortunate fair ones.

For those who do not care to do "some stepping" you may take a stroll either to Mt. Washington or along any hill surrounding the city, and see Pittsburgh by night. The dark, alluring waters glimmering with the colored lights of the bridges and brightly illumined steamers along the rivers, the liquid fire pouring from the mills, casting shimmering flashes of red and yellow in the sky, flaming up and dying away at intervals, silhouetting the massive structures all over the city, will hold you fascinated, and we are sure you will agree with Charles Dickens when he described Pittsburgh at night as "Hell with the lid off." Don't miss it fellows! You will agree with us that Pittsburgh surely deserves to be called the Commercial and Steel City. We say again, you will never forget the scene. Another point of interest is that among the electrical flashes vying with the stars, is the greatest electrical sign in the world and is located on the top of Mount Washington.

And now, stop and listen! Topping the events of the day and evening will be the mid-night show, special and private for MEN ONLY. This is one occasion where the "better-halves" fear to tread, and no fair damsels with boyish bobs can crash the gates. Listen, fellows. There will be—well, never mind. "C'mon up" and find out for yourselves.

On Thursday, September 1, the Division will be driven to the H. J. Heinz Company, where they will view one of the finest systematized food products companies in the world today. You will partake of the world famous 57 luncheon. Talk about good things to eat! After the eats, a boat ride on the attractive and popular steamer, the Homer Smith, is planned. This ride on the calm waters of the rivers surrounding Pittsburgh will soothe the nerves of the excited throngs. On its course the boat will pass many interesting points—the old Exposition, the gray walls of the Western Penitentiary and Neville Island. It was here, Neville Island, on which, if the war had lasted, was to be built the greatest ammunition plant in America, but now, due to the bravery of the Division, in its stead the island is dotted with farms, mills and factories of a progressive people who utilize every possible prospective. The last point is Sewickley Beach at which you may enjoy a cool dip in the placid waters of the Ohio. After working up an appetite you will return again to the city and partake of a sumptuous and enjoyable feast at the Fort Pitt, one of Pittsburgh's leading hotels.

One of the educational side-lights of the convention will take place on Friday, September 2, when all will visit the Pittsburgh Press, a new and modern building equipped with the best in the printing world.

And now for a good afternoon of fun! The ball game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis at Forbes Field will be the next attraction, and you fans will be given the opportunity of seeing our famed baseball heroes performing on their own ground. See "Battling Joe" Harris, your old pal of Headquarters Company, 320th Infantry, land the Pirates at the top of the ladder.

While the men are enjoying themselves at the ball game, the "sweet-hearts, wives and mothers" will be dining at Webster Hall, Pittsburgh's most luxurious hotel apartments.

The final reunion of the day will be the grand military ball at the William Penn Hotel. This event is enthusiastically looked forward to as a top-notch. The ball room will be a sight beautiful to behold—the perfect uniforms and "tuxies" of the men contrasting daringly with the riot of lovely colored gowns of the women. But, gentlemen, be sure to tear yourselves away from this frolic before breakfast or you will miss the sight-seeing trip through the "Million Dollar Section"—the beautiful park and residential district of Pittsburgh.

Saturday, September 4, a specially conducted tour through the Schenley district by street cars through the picturesque streets and boulevards will be a part of the day's enjoyment. The street cars, operated by the Pittsburgh Railways Company are second to none for safety, service and comfort. The Pittsburgh Railways Company has issued a special street car pass for the members of the Eightieth and their families which will save many a footstep and many a dollar. They have also issued a booklet which will explain in detail just how to get to all points in the city. The Chamber of Commerce has co-operated with the Railways Company and are going to distribute a booklet showing where to go while in Pittsburgh. Both these booklets will be free.

Don't miss this trip, for it will include a visit to Carnegie Museum and Art Gallery which contain the finest in beauty and art in the world. If you are interested in the beauties of nature, you will not miss visiting Highland and Schenley Parks. Visit, too, the educational institutions of the University of Pittsburgh and the foundation of its Cathedral of Learning, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Schenley Apartments, St. Paul's Cathedral, Syria Mosque, Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Hall. We could name many more buildings here famed for architectural structure, but we will let you pick them out. You'll enjoy it immensely.

In the afternoon the "Blue Ridgers" will crash the gates of West View Park, where a big time will await young and old. Every amusement known to getters is there. Races, dancing, canoeing, horse-back riding, ball games, and all the necessities for a good picnic. Let's go, buddy! Make it a gala day.

On Sunday morning, September 4, a Divisional Military Mass will be celebrated at St. Paul's Cathedral by Father Wallace, and in the afternoon, Memorial Services will be held in Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Hall in the Oakland district which will conclude the convention, and the evening is free to all. Take a hint from us buddy,—enjoy the evening in a quiet stroll with your "best friend" through our beautiful parks and avenues.

A few details have not as yet been decided upon, but the committees in charge are working day and night to make final arrangements. There will be no change in the regular schedule of events thus named, but a few things which will add to your enjoyment and comfort will be added in the near future.

HOTEL RESERVATIONS

Rooms in Pittsburgh's finest hotels await you. You may have your choice. You would enjoy quiet, out-of-town rooms, cozy and moderately priced, within a few minutes ride of the city, or perhaps you would rather be in the downtown district, in the very heart of Pittsburgh, where the roar of traffic and the excitement of "night life" will soothe your quiet nerves at the wee small hours of the morning. No matter what hotel you select you will not be disappointed. You know that Pittsburgh is noted for its luxurious and comfortable hotels, and we assure you that the rates will interest and attract you.

How to Get to the Tenth Anniversary of Your Division

- First—See your Boss (he or she) and use diplomacy. If necessary Bring the Boss with you. (He or she) will have a fine time—but remember not to bother work or let work bother you from August 31st to September 4th.
- Second—If you are too far away from Pittsburgh to make it on the Kiddie Car use discretion—your feet—or both, and fill out the blank below immediately if not sooner, mailing it to EIGHTIETH DIVISION VETERANS' ASSOCIATION, 405 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., for a Reduced Railroad Certificate, which will enable you to buy a ticket at one-fourth reduction.
- Third—If you have anything on four wheels that emits a clattering noise, clouds of smoke, fire and profanity, treat it with consideration and undoubtedly the devilish contraption will perk up and hustle over the fine, broad improved highways of Pennsylvania to, a fitting climax. If you have to hike, it won't be the first time.
- Fourth—If you live anywhere near the Rhubarbs of Pittsburgh inquire at the Division Headquarters about the special Street Car Passes—Something New—Which the Pittsburgh Railways Company is arranging for the Blue Ridgers. Incidentally everyone can ride his head off on all its first-class cars during the reunion for next to nothing.
- Fifth—You don't need a bank account—sure, go ahead and spend it on a new hat for the wife and bring her along. The expense to the visitor will be very small. Bring along anything else you want to—the more the merrier. 'Smatter, Pop? We make no guarantee against losses because of galloping dominoes, refreshments (you know—kerosine and such) and advance only a hearty welcome, plenty of entertainment, and a general good time to all who come.
- Sixth—No Alibi Ike Stuff—"Yeah, I wooda went oney—etc., etc." See Pittsburgh First—Lots of time to make Paris and Providence after the shindig is all over here. Paris ain't got nothing on Pittsburgh during an 80th Celebration—say you orter see our roof gardens and dugouts—Lindbergh ain't seen nothin' yet.
- Seventh—All up and stretch—the Home Team is all ready to play ball.

Fill in and Fall in.

COUNCILMAN JAS. F. MALONE
ELECTED HONORARY MEMBER OF PITTSBURGH POST No. 3

Councilman James F. Malone was elected and installed with suitable ceremonies as an honorary member of Pittsburgh Post, No. 3, on Friday, June 17, at the regular monthly meeting of the Post in the Court House.

"Jim," as he is known to thousands of his friends in Pittsburgh, is not a war veteran, but, nevertheless, has always held an unusually warm spot in his heart for veterans and veteran activities and has on many occasions gone out of his way to help the members of the 80th as well as all veterans in the various affairs in Pittsburgh.

The Blue Ridgers have reason to know what his interest has meant to the thousands of members of the old 80th in Pittsburgh and vicinity, and Pittsburgh Post in conferring honorary membership upon "Jim" has but expressed a small measure of the admiration and esteem in which he is held among the comrades.

His career in council has always been one of consistent effort for measures of public interest, and if he has made any mistakes (and all of us sometimes make them) he has made very few insofar as the veterans' interest has been concerned, and his friendship has never been a result of political expediency, but that of a sincere and genuine friend of the men who saw service by one who realizes the meaning of service.

Various matters relative to the coming Anniversary Celebration in Pittsburgh were discussed at the meeting of the Post on Friday, and reports from the various committees indicated that the plans were rapidly shaping up for the biggest celebration that the city has yet seen by the Blue Ridgers. Following the meeting, eats were served, John Vachetta of the 315th F. A., providing the necessary ammunition from "Delmonico's," where he is in charge of rations.

Several new members made applica-

SULLIVAN, Timothy—A corporal of Co. I, 320th Infantry met his death in the late mine disaster of the New England Fuel Transportation Co. mine at Evertville, W. Va., when an explosion snuffed out the lives of approximately 76 men. Six former buddies (I. K. Feather, Moscum, Garey, Gontz, Mowry and Homer Dunn) who accompanied "Tim," as he was known to Co. I, and to Camp Lee, Va., acted as pallbearers at a military funeral held at Latrobe, Pa., Wednesday, May 11, 1927. All the former comrades of Company I join in extending their heartfelt sympathy to his loved ones in their bereavement. We feel most keenly the loss of a true soldier and a former comrade. The following resolution was passed by the Company:

Inasmuch as the Supreme Commander-in-Chief of the Universe has called from our ranks our beloved comrade, Timothy Sullivan, who served with "I" Company, 320th Infantry, 80th Division, to a true and faithful soldier's reward; be it herein

Resolved, That we, the surviving members of Company I, 230th Infantry, hereby proclaim our deep loss and extend our heartfelt sympathy to the surviving loved ones, relatives and friends of our deceased comrade; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the family of Timothy Sullivan and spread on the minutes of our Post de Command.

"DOWN VIRGINIA WAY"

By Russell L. Stultz

The veterans of the 80th are still "carrying on." No matter the place or emergency, you're pretty sure to find an ex-Blue Ridger in the vanguard. For instance, press dispatches early in May reported that Colonel R. Spaulding, once commander of the 305th Engineers, was among the army engineers on active duty in the Mississippi flood zone.

Rev. Benjamin K. Hay, Y. M. C. A. representative with the 318th Infantry in the Ancy-le-Franc and Ecommoy Areas, was elected dean of the faculty of Massanutten Military Academy, Woodstock, Va., May 30. "Ben," in civilian life, is a minister of the Reformed Church, being stationed in Virginia and Pennsylvania since the war.

Colonel Charles Keller, wartime commander of the 317th Infantry, who has been on duty with the War Plans Division of the General Staff in Washington for several years, left Washington June 20 for his new assignment with the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., carrying with him the best wishes of his many friends of the 80th.

Four army training camps in Virginia are among the military posts selected as sites for the 1927 Citizens' Military Training Camps, they being Fort Eustis, Fort Monroe, Fort Myers and Fort Humphreys. No, buddy, Camp Lee isn't available, her memories being about the only thing that's left. But they're some memories, boy!

Reasoning that a man lives but once and then not too long, Comrade Boyd B. Stutler, ex-Sergeant, 314th F. A., and one of the current vice presidents of the Division Association, is planning to stage a "come-back" with the American Legion on the occasion of its pilgrimage to the haunts of the A. E. F. in September. We're expecting some "red-hot" stuff from the 80th Division sector upon his return to Amerique. Bon voyage et bon souvenirs, camarade!

R. P. Keezell, of Keezletown and Harrisonburg, Va., ex-Captain, Company H, 319th Infantry, was among the Virginia alumni of the 319th who attended the reunion of former officers of that regiment in Washington, May 13.

Comrade H. A. Gano, who fought la guerre with Company D, 320th Infantry, has been located at Ashland, Ky., since April 23. He is associated with the Ben Williamson Co., wholesale hardware, and works Kentucky, West Virginia and a small part of Virginia. Comrade Gano was previously located at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., which place he left March 23 on a 3200-mile motor trip through 15 States. He's "dated up" for the 80th's annual shindig in Pittsburgh this autumn.

The members of Robert Y. Conrad Post, American Legion, of Winchester, Va., which numbers many Blue Ridgers in its ranks, were hosts to Hanford MacNider, Assistant Secretary of War, on the occasion of his visit to Winchester the last week in April in connection with the Shenandoah Valley's annual "Apple Blossom Festival."

Colonel A. W. Foreman, former 80th Division Quartermaster, who has been stationed at Fort Crook, Nebr., for several years, in command of the Seventeenth Infantry, has been transferred to a new station, but the assignment is not yet known. Colonel Foreman's home address is 803 North Franklin street, Wilmington, Del.

There is but one "Lindy." While he is acknowledged top kick of the ether, others of us are nevertheless privileged to "go on the air" in the more crowded manner. Among those recently flirting with "Lindy's" domain were the members of Richmond Post, of the Division Association, who on June 6 broadcasted a two-hour program from Station WRVA, Richmond. You buddies who were "listening in" heard some real stuff.

Capt. Reuel W. Elton, of Pittsburgh, former Personnel Adjutant of the 318th Infantry and later secretary of the 80th Division Association and Adjutant General of the V. F. W., spent a recent week-end in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, correcting some impressions of the "Old Dominion" acquired at Camp Lee as a result. Virginia, like France, boasts of numerous contradictions. Capt. Elton is now secretary of the Community Affairs Division of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the 80th who plan to revisit the former haunts of the A. E. F. with the American Legion this year, and who wish to visit the graves of their buddies in the American cemeteries abroad, may obtain the name of the cemeteries and exact burial locations upon request to the writer. The name and organization of the comrade should be given.

TEN YEARS have passed since those exciting days of 1917 witnessed the arrival of the 80th Division. The men who then formed it were later to win undying glory and fame on the battlefields of France. For every reason to feel unashamed of their service and to desire to keep alive the memory of it is good Americanism. It is this spirit which has maintained the 80th Division

GREETINGS FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Veterans of the 80th Division; Hail:

Ten years ago we were summoned from our various walks of life by our country and assembled at Camp Lee. Most of us were raw recruits with no military experience. Under the watchful supervision and direction of our officers we were trained and fitted into a smooth working division, capable of performing every duty and mission given to us. We may well be proud that on the battle fields of France our division carried its objective every time. That in the preparatory training both here and in France and in that trying period between the Armistice and our return home, we bore ourselves with such propriety and regard for the rights and comfort of others that we earned and still retain the love and affection of the civil populations with whom we came in contact.

We are glad the war is over, yet we don't want to forget it nor the buddies both living and dead with whom we fought in that war. The bond of comradeship that held us together in the storm of battle must not be allowed to rust nor permit us to be scattered by the winds of opportunity.

Once a year at least let us strengthen that bond, let us rally to our reunions where we can meet our comrades. We will find that they are just as anxious to see us as we are to see them. To those who have never been to a reunion, we particularly address this appeal to attend this year. There's always a fatted calf for the prodigal.

"The 80th Division Always Moves Forward"—This year our objective is Pittsburgh. LET'S GO.

CARLO D. CELLA.

Former members of the 159th Brigade and the 80th Division will be gratified to learn that Colonel George H. Jamerson, wartime commander of the Brigade and Regimental Commander of the 317th Infantry at Camp Lee, has been advanced to the rank of Brigadier General by the President upon recommendation of the Secretary of War, to become effective August 25. General Jamerson is thus restored to the grade which he held during the period of the emergency. For the past several years he has been on duty with the Inspector General's Department of the Army. General Jamerson is a native of Martinsville, Va., and was appointed to West Point in 1889. In addition to commanding the 159th Brigade in France, he has seen service in Alaska, in Hawaii, in Cuba, where he served during the Spanish-American war, and on the Mexican border in 1916. He was cited for gallantry in action against the Spanish forces at El Caney, Cuba, and was decorated with the Distinguished Service Medal during the World War.

This is a dandy time for banking the spare shekels, francs et centimes, against the time of need—meaning the 80th's tenth anniversary reunion in Pittsburgh. No, it "ain't" too early—two months, eight weeks, sixty days, with time considerably busier fleeing than it was a decade ago. Still, ten years is a fair-sized interval, no matter whether you're wedded or merely hoping for a skirmish with Cupid, and it's about time some of us were realizing we're now eligible for a session with the past. Anyway, tenth anniversaries, especially the first one, are few and far between and it appears that Pittsburgh is planning to make of this initial six-year celebration a party worthy of the occasion. This being the unalloyed "dope," let's "everybuddy" make ready now to go and show "Pa Pitt" we're still a Blue Ridge outfit of respectable number. The command is forward as of old, with the city by the Allegheny our objective. You who've made the march to the Pirates' stronghold twice before should need no urging. However, there's a lot of reunion "rookies" still on the outside of the biggest thing bequeathed them by la guerre and to you renegadin' back-sliders we address this comradely chunk of advice: "Start the reunion habit this year—"

The former comrades of the late First Lieutenant Jos. M. Davidson, D.S.C., 318th Infantry, who was killed in action in November, 1918, will be happy to learn that his parents, Mayor and Mrs. W. M. Davidson, of St. Joseph, La., who were in the midst of the devastated Mississippi flood zone, escaped the physical dangers of the disaster, although sustaining heavy losses.

Pa., on May 31. He was born at Pittsburgh and resided there all his life. He was the son of Annie LaVelle and Michael Flaherty. He attended St. Richard's Church. Besides his parents he leaves one brother, William, of Pittsburgh. Burial took place Friday morning, June 3, at the Calvary cemetery.

ANOTHER 80TH COMRADE MOVES FORWARD

Colonel George H. Jamerson, formerly commander of the 159th Brigade, has been raised to the rank of Brigadier General upon the promotion of General Robert Alexander. General Jamerson had been commander of the 80th Division Reserve until his recent promotion. All his friends and former comrades join in congratulating General Jamerson for the honor that has been bestowed upon him.

TRANSPORTATION

Through courtesy and consideration the Pittsburgh Railways Company has issued a special street car pass during the five-day period of the tenth anniversary of the 80th Division. The sale of the pass will be restricted to the members of the 80th and their guests. It will be sold for $1.00, and will be good on regular cars and in all fare zones of the system except on the interurban, picnic and special cars, the cars coming under the first heading being the Washington, Interurban Route, Charleroi Interurban Route, Butler Short Line Interurban Route and the Harmony Interurban Route. This pass will save many steps and quite a little money, so don't fail to get yours.

There will be a booth at registration headquarters where you may purchase the pass. Then, too, the Railways Company will have a representative present at this booth for the purpose of giving out information regarding the best routing to reach similar points and such other information of the like nature as you may desire. You shall also receive a little booklet entitled "Trolley Travelog," which contains pictures of the most important and interesting places to go while in Pittsburgh, and the best of it all is that it tells you just how to get there. Do not miss getting one of these books. It is a dainty "souvenir guide" of a great city almost at the height of its industrial and commercial development. We know that there will be a demand for these Travelog books and we ask that you get yours early. Any member living within "the city limits" may purchase his pass before the 31st of August so as to use it the first day of the Reunion.

Here is the grand finale for the reduced railroad slips. Each Post of the Division is allowed a certain number of reduced railroad fare slips. Different members have been appointed to distribute them. If you have not received one please write at once to us and we shall forward one to you by return mail.

The Railways Company has given us splendid co-operation in helping us plan for our Reunion. It has given us reduced rates, and it has permitted us to "rent the trolleys" for the five days of our visit here. It has supported us in every way possible and with its assistance we are certain of a most delightful, and we may add successful, convention.

Now is the time to act.

Alexander M. Noble, formerly of the Signal Platoon Headquarters Co., 318th Inf., is now a patient at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Washington, D. C., and would like to hear from some of his former buddies. Comrade Noble also served with Company L, 317th Infantry, and the 305th Field Signal Battalion during the war.

Company C, 318th Infantry

Oscar C. Holand, formerly with the 318th Infantry, and now with the Pacific Electric Railway Company, Long Beach, Cal., plans to be at Pittsburgh for the reunion. Mr. Holand will obtain a leave of absence for two months. After August 31 Mr. Holand's address will be 1208 Mississippi avenue, Dormont, Pittsburgh, Pa. He hopes to see many of his former buddies at Pittsburgh, his home town.

All members of the Division in and around Pittsburgh are invited to attend this meeting and become active members in the local Post which will take an active part in putting the big reunion across. Judge D. Paulson Foster, formerly private in the 305th Field Signal Battalion is Commander of the Post.

Members of the Post expressed their sympathy for Comrade Sam Fleming, Past Commander of the Post, whose father died a few weeks ago.

Company B, 320th Infantry

M. J. Sughrue was host recently to a couple of his old buddies, James Dunwell and Joseph Frew, both former members of Company B, 320th Infantry. Mr. Dunwell is now residing in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Frew is a resident of St. Clairsville, Ohio.

Company G, 320th Infantry

Fall In: Toot Sweet:

All members of Company G, 320th Infantry are advised that the fifth annual banquet and get-together meeting of the company will be held at the Hotel Chatham, 423 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., Saturday evening, September 3, 1927. This banquet will take place during the time the 80th Division National Veterans' Association, is holding its eighth annual reunion and tenth anniversary, which will be held in Pittsburgh August 31, September 1, 2, 3 and 4. An elaborate program has been arranged by the reunion committee for entertaining those who will attend. There will be something doing every minute for the five days that the convention will be in session.

How many of you have stopped just for a moment to give it a thought, that it is practically ten years, all but a few months since we were mustered into the "Service" of Uncle Sam at Camp Lee, Va. The first real meeting place of the company, where we learned to know each other as "Buddy." Unfortunately some of the old company were transferred to other outfits, then we were filled up again; this gave an acquaintance of at least one (100) hundred new members on the company roster. Then our trip to Sunny France (when it wasn't raining), fighting the battles "Over There," then our bon-voyage back to the states again with many new faces in the ranks, some of the other "buddies" having been left on the other side, some sent home as casuals, and quite a number in the hospitals. Just think what it will mean to you and your old bunkie just to fight those battles of France and Camp Lee all over again.

The four previous banquets have without doubt been a great success, and if you have never attended one of these affairs, you have no idea what you have been missing. At the affair last year the ones present passed unanimously a resolution saying that they would all be present this year, and would make an attempt to bring along another buddy or friend, so let's all be present so there will be no one disappointed. The other fellow will be expecting to see you there.

During a recent canvass of the members in regard to the time of holding the banquet, returns disclosed that more than seventy (70) members of the company have stated definitely that we could expect them to be present.

It is the desire of your committee that each member place himself on the committee, and try to urge upon every man of the company that he comes in contact with, to attend this affair, talk it over with him, and those who have at different times attended these affairs. Tell the ones who have not attended, what they have been missing.

Some time during the month of August a letter, including tickets, will be mailed to each member on the company roster, with a closing date for reservations. Any further information can be had by communicating with the secretary of the company P. C. If you should have any news items for the "Service Magazine," send them also. We are always interested in knowing how each and every man of the company is progressing, and to keep our mailing list up-to-date. So let's hear from you.

Yours in comradeship,

George J. Klier,

McKees Rocks, Pa.

The following men of the company have answered the last roll call and passed to the great beyond since the demobilization of the outfit. We have records of the following: John Fordyce, June 10, 1922. Lawrence Holden (Bugler), December 25, 1923. Grover Koah (No record of date). John Summers (No record of date). Frank Dorsey, March 6, 1924. Rudolph Pearson, January 16, 1922. Acy C. Gose, accidentally, June 6, 1925. Jacob Zytowski (runner), November 13, 1925. Charles Blaha, March 3, 1924. Edward W. Broderick, March 8, 1927. No doubt several other members have passed on, without us receiving notice of their death.

Russell Walklett, formerly First Lieutenant Company G, 320th Infantry, is engaged in the insurance business in Philadelphia, Pa., and resides at Had-den Heights, New Jersey.

Diligent search has been made by the secretary through the Adjutant General's Office, Washington, D. C., to try to locate Captain Edward J. Taylor, who commanded the company when it was first organized at Camp Lee. All search has been futile, his last known address was 350 West Fourteenth street, Norfolk, Va., but all mail has been returned for better address. Anyone knowing the address of Capt. Taylor will communicate with Secretary George J. Klier. Captain Taylor, upon leaving the company, was made Major and attached to the staff of the First Army Corp, while the company was a Bavincourt, France.

William C. Cannon (better known to the men of the company as Joe), and formerly First Lieutenant, Company G, 320th Infantry, is busy possum hunting in Mississippi, and can be reached by addressing him at Monticello, Miss.

Patrick J. Sullivan (better known as Good Time Paddy) is still in Pittsburgh, and has been experiencing some difficulty in getting his compensation claim adjusted with the Government. Paddy suffered a foot injury in France, but the Veterans' Bureau will not give him service connection on his claim. His address is 4618 Carlton street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

E. Y. Dobson is connected with the Deed Registry Department, Court House, Pittsburgh, Pa. George J. Klier is serving as tipstaff in Court of Common Pleas, Allegheny County, 704 City-County Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Thomas J. Hughes, formerly Private, Company G, 320th Infantry, is now located at R. F. D. No. 9, Box 59, South Hills, Pittsburgh, Pa.

James Amies, formerly Cook, Company G, 320th Infantry, is now located at 115 E. Montgomery avenue, North Side, Pittsburgh, Pa.

320th Machine Gun Co.

Lieut. J. B. Devereaux, formerly of the 320th Machine Gun Company, stopped in at Hamilton, P. C. He would like to hear from his buddies. He plans to see them all at the reunion. Mr. Devereaux is now living at 7610 Bennett street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Headquarters Company 313th A. F.

Comrades and friends of Arthur J. Benton, Headquarters Company, 313th F. A., will be interested to hear that, accompanied by Mrs. Benton, he is sailing June 4, on the S.S. Penland for a three months' tour of Europe. He expects to return in time to greet the old crew at the reunion at Pittsburgh.

305th Engineers

Former members of the 305th Engineers might be interested in knowing that Col. Spaulding is still located at Louisville in charge of Government operation.

Capt. Yereance is now located at Washington, D. C., where he is connected with one of the large insurance companies.

Lieut. Buckingham, formerly of Company F, is still in the hospital at Gulfport, Miss., where he has been confined for the past several years. He hopes, however, to be discharged from there this summer.

Lieut. Menke, also of Company F, is in the oil business at Wichita Falls, Tex. His address is Box 1052.

Capt. Fred. G. Rockwell, formerly of Company F, is now with the Big Sandy Company of Pikeville, Ky. He writes that he would like to have the various members of the Company write to SERVICE and let us know what you are doing.

Paul Winters, formerly of the 305th Engineers, hopes to be with his buddies and pals at the reunion at Pittsburgh, August 31 to September 4. He plans to be there with the bunch.

FUTURE SONS AND DAUGHTERS

M. J. Sughrue, formerly of 320th Infantry, Company B, announces the arrival of a darling baby girl, Mary Louise. Welcome, little stranger.

80th Division Veterans' Association, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gentlemen:—

Enclosed please find a check for three ($3.00) dollars to cover dues and subscription for SERVICE for one (1) year.

I belonged up until several years ago, and now wish to be reinstated. If I am not right as to amount of dues for one year, kindly write me and I will send balance. However, I wish to be back in the fold again as I realize how foolish it is to cut off my old acquaintances by not hearing of them through the magazine you put out.

Hoping to receive the next issue of SERVICE, I thank you and beg to remain

Very truly yours,

Philadelphia Post No. 2

The activities of Philadelphia Post No. 2, following the banquet in April, have centered around the celebration of Memorial Day. As usual, the Post decorated the graves of various members of the Division in and around Philadelphia, with appropriate ceremonies. The section of the Post having charge of those cemeteries in West Philadelphia and Delaware County were successful in organizing a firing squad, and in each cemetery the ceremonies were quite impressive. Contrary to the usual custom, this decoration of graves took place on the day preceding Memorial Day. On that same evening we joined with the Thomas M. Golden Post, No. 560, V. F. W., and paraded from Forty-seventh and Lancaster avenue to Sixtieth and Walnut street, where a memorial service was held at the Richardson Memorial Presbyterian Church. The Post had its Bugle Corps in line for the first time, and in all, more than twenty members of the Post turned out. This is the second year that we have assembled with this V. F. W. Post and we feel that very pleasant relations have been established, several members belonging to both Posts.

The regular monthly meeting of the Post was held on Thursday, June 16, at 2210 Sansom street. Special emphasis was laid on recruiting those who will attend the convention in August and September. Our plans for this affair are not definitely completed as yet, but there will be no doubt that Philadelphia Post, No. 2, will not only be well represented, but will take part in the convention just as fully and actively as it has always done in the past. The coming meetings for the summer will be held on July 21 and August 18, at the Post rooms, at which times the convention plans will be definitely matured.

Other activities for the summer include a picnic on July 10, at Lenape Park, near West Chester. We are hoping for good weather and an unusually large turn-out. The Junior League also plans during July to take all the children of the Post to the Zoo. This will undoubtedly be a very joyous occasion, and those who have the expedition in charge are looking forward to a very active afternoon.

"ILS NE PASSERONT PAS"
said MARSHAL JOFFRE

— in the recent squabble, meaning of course, "They shall not pass." It has been reported that in past years, motormen and conductors have taken the same attitude. Now, of course, with the privilege of the Weekly Pass at everyone's command, all this is changed.

Norfolk-Portsmouth Post No. 1

Capt. J. Carl Peck who has been confined for eight weeks in the hospital where he underwent three operations and four blood transfusions has left the hospital and is living at 316 Pembroke avenue, and is doing very nicely.

A. M. Brownley, Morris Meyers and John B. Diehl went to Atlantic City, N. J., where they attended the Shrine Imperial Council meeting as members of the Khedive Arab Patrol.

On account of the illness of his wife, P. A. Jones was unable to go to Atlantic City.

J. B. Moore wants to go to the Reunion and also buy an auto but can't do both. What's the matter, Joe? Haven't you received a card from Pittsburgh?

W. W. Jordan's mother and sister are visiting England and France. Are they trying to check up on some of your stories, Walter?

Ralph Davies, Sergeant, 320th Infantry, Company D, was burned to death in Brooklyn, N. Y., on June 10, and was buried at Munhall, Pa., on June 14. He was made a Lieutenant and transferred to the 13th Division in June, 1918.

The busiest man in Norfolk is Carl Tranberger, who has charge of Bat. B, 111th F. A. as top kick. They are getting ready for camp, and he says you can't tell them now-a-days what to do, and get it done like in the 80th.

PLANS FOR TENTH ANNUAL RECEPTION

Say, buddy, the City of Pittsburgh invites the 80th Division Veterans' Association to celebrate the tenth anniversary in Pittsburgh, August 31 to September 4, inclusive.

Pittsburgh has much to attract the ordinary casual traveler. The old Fort Duquesne stands as one of the greatest landmarks in the history of west of the Allegheny mountains, while in marked contrast the Homestead Mills which turn out the huge armor plate for our battleships stamps the name of Pittsburgh on our modern defense. In our Oakland district are our colleges, museum and art exhibitions, beautiful club houses, luxurious hotel apartments, picturesque parks and drives, etc. It is our Million Dollar District. Several amusement parks offer everything desired, including bathing in outdoor natatoriums. The three historic rivers, the great plant of the H. J. Heinz Company, mills and factories too numerous to mention, are all worth while seeing.

A committee of the 80th Division men assisted by Boy Scouts will be on hand at the stations. Automobiles will be in attendance to take you and your baggage to Headquarters (Moose Temple, Penn avenue, near Sixth street), where you will register. For those who desire to make the trip by automobile, Boy Scouts will be placed at Grant and Seventh avenue (where the Lincoln Highway enters our business section), at the end of the Liberty Tubes for those coming from the west and south and at the end of the Seventh Street Bridge for those coming from Erie, Butler and points north. These Boy Scouts will act as your guide to Headquarters. For the different Posts (Philadelphia, Richmond, Norfolk, Petersburg, Clarksburg, etc.) intending to come as a body, the V. F. W. Band of twenty-five pieces will be on hand to accompany you to Headquarters, while machines will take care of your luggage. Please mark all baggage with name and address to prevent complications. If any advise that they are making the trip by aeroplane, we have two landing fields where automobiles will be stationed to convey them to Headquarters.

Please co-operate by making tentative arrangements now. Do not put off making arrangements till the last minute,

Camp Lee, Va.

The great panoramic of the old camp, printed on heavy gloss paper, suitable for framing, measures 4 ft. 3 inches by 9 1/4 inches. The old camp exists no longer, but the pleasant memories will always remain. Now is your last chance to purchase this picture for your room or den. It will be sent rolled upon receipt of 10c, coin or stamps, to cover cost of mailing and wrapping. How many do you want, buddy?

We have also about 70 Bayonets, a remembrance book of Camp Lee, on hand. These books are very nicely bound and contain 82 pages of pictures of you and your buddies. The special price for these is 25c. Hurry, buddy! There are just a few left.

Upon receipt of 10c, covering cost of postage, we shall send you 24 postal card views of the Old Camp.

Apply to Service Supply Department, 80th Division Veterans' Association, 405 Penn avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

and then make us feel badly because we have not made adequate preparations. We are willing and ready to do our part if you will do yours.

Live once more the "Good Old Days" in the enjoyable companionship of men—real live red-blooded men, who shared with you the privations of war, men who shared with you the last hard cracker or the few drops of water in their canteens. Fond memories of the past will spring up when you see again the old familiar faces of the buddies of other days, and do not forget, buddy, that others will be looking for you, perhaps even more so than you might for the other fellow, so do not spoil their fun by staying away. We want a full muster without a single A. W. O. L. Remember this is your party, so fill out the enclosed form and mail at once so that the committee can make the necessary preparations for your individual reception.

The Committee of Welcome will function on the night of August 30, and all day August 31, so please state over what railroad you intend to travel and the approximate time your train will arrive here, or if you travel by automobile, the approximate time you will arrive in the city.

Please act now while the matter is fresh in your mind.

To Jack Sugden,
530 Oliver Building,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

I shall be pleased to serve with you on the Reception Committee.

which is going to help financially in putting over the Tenth Anniversary Celebration and National Reunion in Pittsburgh August 31 to September 4, in the most elaborate and complete manner of any yet held by the 80th Division.

The 80th Division Has Gone into the Show Business for a Week

Arrangements have been made with the Duquesne Opera Company playing a summer season of high-class musical comedy at Duquesne Garden, Fifth avenue and Craig street, Pittsburgh, to present the soldier musical farce

“BUDDIES”

the week of July 18 for the 80th Division, and every ticket bought means money for your organization.

The Duquesne Opera Company's New York Cast of seventy people will take part in “BUDDIES,” and you are sure to see a good show—one that recalls the amusing things that happened in the A. E. F. and one that made a big hit on Broadway. In addition there will be free dancing in the palm garden foyer of the remodeled garden between acts and after the show—two entertainments for the price of one. A $100,000 refrigerating plant keeps the garden always cool.

The prices are only 50c, 75c, 1.10 and $1.65 evenings and 50c for any seat in the house for the Wednesday and Saturday matinees.
