

The Service Magazine

Published Monthly Under the Direction of the Eightieth Division Veterans Association, 915 Bessemer Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

DWIGHT H. FEE, Editor
WALTER R. SUPPES, Associate Editor
GUY T. VISKNISKKI, Associate Editor
HARRY R. CURRY, Advertising Manager
REUEL W. ELTON, General Manager
JACK V. BERGER, Artist and Cartoonist

Entered as second-class matter October 3, 1919, at the post office at Pittsburgh, Penna., under the Act of March 3, 1879

Vol. I—No. 8

MAY, 1920

$2.00 a Year—20c a Copy

When You Read of May Day Plots, Recall Another May

There are two months that stand out far above the other ten for the bulk of the Eightieth men. One is September, with its memorable 26th, the other is May.

It was in May, 1918, that the division sailed, that it got its first glimpse of France. It was in May, 1919, that it sailed from France and landed on home soil. Somehow, it seems a long while ago to those Mays and to the year before, when war had been declared only a month. How long it must seem to the soldiers of the other nations to the May six years ago when war was said to be impossible!

And so, this month, SERVICE strives to present a recollection-stirring article or two of those days. In the months to come it expects to present, though not in straight narrative form, tales of the divisions's experiences during the same months two and three years ago. Watch for battle-maps of your old bailiwicks.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Frontispiece—The End of a Perfect Day	—Page 4
“On to Richmond”	—Page 5
He That Loseth His Life	—Page 6
Comin’ and Goin’ (Photographs)	—Page 8
Pennsylvania in the World War	—Page 9
The Country Cousin (Poem)	—Page 9
The Home-Coming in 1865	George T. Fleming—Page 10
The Tales They Tell	—Page 12
Neptunis Rex—Long Live the King	—Page 14
Ricochets from the Reception	Jack V. Berger—Pages 16-17
Lloyd M. Brett—An Appreciation	C. Fred Cook—Page 18
The Replica (Verse)	H. R. Curry—Page 19
“One Year Elapses”	Russell L. Stultz—Page 20
Webbstair’s Dictionary	—Page 25
A Page to Wit	—Page 26
Alumni Notes	—Page 27
Taps	—Page 31